

Big Three May Meet July 14-16

Potsdam, Suburb Of Berlin, Probable Meeting Place. Is Best Guess Today

LONDON, July 5.—(P)—A published report said today that Prime Minister Churchill would meet Generalissimo Franco of Spain before the Big Three conference in Potsdam, but a foreign office commentator cast doubt on the report.

The best guess was that President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Churchill would confer at Potsdam, a Berlin suburb, July 14 or 16. They will try to liquidate outstanding European problems.

The prime minister, tired from the election campaign, his wife and daughter are expected to take a holiday at the beautiful Chateau De Borda in the French Basque coast just outside Hendaye on the Spanish border before the big three meeting. Bordeaux reports said telephone and telegraph experts were connecting the villa direct with London.

The foreign office commentator did not deny or confirm the report of a meeting with the Spanish chief of state, but expressed "the personal interpretation" that the story stemmed from the political campaign.

Italy One Topic
Unusually reliable diplomats said the big three would discuss the future of Italian colonies and the question of admitting Italy to the World Security League.

Belief was general in London that agreement on matters awaiting the attention of the "big three" would be speeded by solution of the Polish problem—an issue which British-American recognition of the new Warsaw provisional government will automatically eliminate from the Potsdam agenda.

This recognition is expected to be forthcoming within 36 hours. Outstanding among the questions which President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin are expected to discuss are Germany's economic future and the price she must pay for her aggressions.

Involved in these questions are the use which is to be made of Germany's skilled labor, likely demands to be made upon her natural resources such as coal, iron and wood, and the disposition of her undamaged industrial machinery.

Berlin Factories Taken Over
A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Daniel De Luce in Berlin said that a majority of the factories in the Berlin districts now being taken over by British and American troops were stripped of heavy machinery by the Russians four to eight weeks ago.

DeLuce said Allied nationals who have been through other German areas occupied by the Red army report that similar removal of industrial equipment is in progress there.

In addition to settling Germany's economic future it is believed here that the "big three" will attempt to reach general boundary agreements in preparation for an early European peace settlement. This would involve discussion of the territorial claims of Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, France and possibly Holland.

Infantrymen Strike at Last Jap Footholds in Balikpapan

By Russell Brines

BALIKPAPAN, Borneo, July 5.—(P)—Australian infantrymen struck today at the last Japanese footholds in Balikpapan, Borneo's major oil port, which already for all practical purposes is in Allied hands.

(Radio Tokyo insisted Japanese lines were holding and that an Australian attack spearheaded by 50 tanks had been repulsed with heavy loss. It estimated Allied casualties at 1,100 since the beachhead was made last Sunday—700 in the sea and 400 ashore. Allied sources have said casualties were light.)

American engineers with the invasion celebrated Fourth of July by sailing two of their LCMs into Balikpapan bay despite the fact it was not yet cleared of Japanese mines.

The landing of the LCMs at Japanese-built pontoon wharves marked the first entry of Allied shipping into the bay since the Japanese took over in 1941.

The bay itself was in strong contrast with the wrecked and scarred port city. Only a few sunken ships protrude above its calm waters.

Rush Reconstruction

Artillery duels, meanwhile, with strongly placed enemy guns across the three-mile-wide Balikpapan bay while engineers rushed reconstruction of captured Sepinggang air strip and a column smashed against strong opposition in a drive to envelope Manggar, last major enemy air field in the invasion territory.

Three columns of the tropical-hardened Diggers, who swept on through the heart of the burned and devastated central city yesterday, joined in a headlong smash against the final refinery area of Panbaniari, as the main Japanese forces appeared to be withdrawing to the northeast toward Samarinda in the heart of the oil producing region.

Nearer Airfield

An Aussie unit swept in an encircling movement on Pandaniari from the ridges which overlooked and controlled the central dock and industrial areas of Balikpapan. Still another column pushed after the retreating enemy on the Samarinda road with the help of strong naval gun fire and artillery support.

Aussies shoving to within four miles of Manggar airfield, more than 10 miles north of Balikpapan met strong opposition along the highway from Sepinggang, whose area was so pitted, mined and cratered that equipment for reconstruction had to be delivered by landing craft from the sea.

Truman Orders Navy to Seize Goodyear Co.

Rubber Workers Ordered Back to Jobs on Friday

By Larry Smith

AKRON, Ohio, July 5.—(P)—The navy seized the five strike-paralyzed plants of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company at 11:15 a. m. today, under executive order by President Truman and ordered 16,700 CIO-United Rubber Workers back to their jobs tomorrow.

Capt. H. K. Clark, USNR, took command of the sprawling rubber plants and moved swiftly to resume production of war-vital airplane, truck and other tires which had been halted completely during the shutdown which entered its 20th day today.

Captain Clark, in a statement given newsmen and read over all Akron radio stations, ordered the strikers to resume work on the regular Friday shifts or "become subject to all proper and legal sanctions and measures available."

Great Production Loss
Goodyear officials said the strike, caused by breakdown of negotiations between the firm and the union on 32 wage, hour and working condition provisions, had caused a production loss of 16,000 tires daily, along with thousands of other items used by the armed services.

Within 15 minutes after President Truman issued his seizure order in Washington, Captain Clark and a staff of about 20 men arrived at the main gate of the Goodyear plants to take over in the name of the government.

Pickets Cheer Navy Men
The navy men were cheered by pickets as they passed through the gate and into the office of Edward J. Thomas, president of Goodyear.

Captain Clark, head of the plants emergency management in the office of the secretary of the navy, was the officer in charge in the seizure of the United Engineering company in San Francisco in April.

Following a short conference between Captain Clark and President Thomas, the naval staff began posting notices at all gates and on all buildings, ordering the striking employees back on the job on regular shifts Friday.

The Placards Said:
"This is to notify you that the plants and facilities of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in Akron are now in possession and being operated by the undersigned as officer in charge pursuant to executive order of the President of the United States.

"All plants and departments will be re-opened at the regular starting hour Friday morning, July 6. Shifts other than the first will start Friday, July 6 at the hours in effect prior to the strike.

"You are directed to report for work at your proper shift hour tomorrow, Friday, July 6. Failure to report will subject you to all proper and legal sanctions and measures available."

The notices were signed "Capt. H. K. Clark, USNR."

Sub Trigger Believed Lost

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—The submarine Trigger, with its wartime complement of from 80 to 85 officers and men, is overdue from patrol and presumed lost, the navy announced today.

Next of kin have been notified. The loss, announced in a communiqué, brought to 45 the number of U. S. submarines lost since the start of the war including four announced as sunk, two destroyed to prevent capture, and 39 overdue and presumed lost.

The vessel's skipper was Commander David R. Connole, who had been in submarine service since June, 1939. He had commanded the Trigger since February, 1945. He held the silver star medal.

Commander Connole was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Connole, Madison, Ill. His wife lives at Annapolis, Md.

The 1,325-ton submersible was built at the Mare Island, Calif., navy yard and commissioned January 20, 1942.

The Trigger won the presidential unit citation for outstanding performance in combat during her fifth, sixth, and seventh war patrols.

In the battle of Midway, she was a member of the task force of Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, senior task force commander.

Quiet Fourth In Sedalia; No Accidents

Tragic Deaths in Nation Were on Highway or in Water

The Fourth of July celebration, as to fire crackers and fireworks, was extremely quiet in Sedalia Wednesday, according to Chief of Police Anson Finnell. Chief Finnell, however, reported the usual police business, drunks and careless drivers, was a "little up."

Police received no reports of anyone being injured by fireworks, at least of any serious nature. No calls were received by the department from anyone complaining of the shooting of fire crackers or of setting off of fireworks displays.

The day, according to police officers was one of the most quiet Fourth's since the war began in 1941, in spite of the release of fireworks this year for celebrations.

By the Associated Press
Most of the nation's millions celebrated a "safe and sane" Fourth of July yesterday, accidental deaths across the country totaling 138, most of them on the highway or in the water.

While hundreds of persons suffered minor injuries from fireworks, no deaths were reported. The fatalities compared to a total of 439 deaths reported for the three-day Fourth of July holiday in 1944 and 298 for a similar period in 1943.

Fifty-three of the 138 deaths were caused from traffic accidents, whereas the average number of motor deaths for a Wednesday in July is 80, the National Safety Council said. Drownings claimed 50 lives and 35 persons died from miscellaneous causes—fires, electrocutions, lightning, plane crashes etc.

Ohio reported 16 deaths, to lead the country in violent deaths. New York and Illinois, with the nation's biggest cities, reported five and three, respectively.

Survey by States
An Associated Press survey showed no accidental deaths in 10 states.

William Oliver Walker, 15, St. Louis county, was killed by a Frisco train. Jerry Spuhler, 7, St. Louis, drowned in Meramec river. Marjorie Ellen Ster, 18 months, was fatally injured by an auto in front of her St. Louis home.

Fined For Throwing Firecracker

"I don't know why I did it," the youth said. "I certainly do not favor Mr. Churchill, but I had no intention of hurting him."

Churchill was disconcerted but not injured by the explosion.

Bradley Retains Army Rank

County Court Making Plans For New Jail

Will Pay for it Out of Surplus; No Bond Issue

Pettis county in the near future will have a new county jail, but it will be built on installments—and without a bond election. This was made known by the county court when they announced J. P. Schwartz was drafting plans for the proposed jail to replace the antique jail at 220 South Lamine avenue.

Mr. Schwartz was first employed by the Pettis County court to draw plans for a building to adjoin the present jail, to be used as women's quarters and quarters for juveniles. However, the cost of this addition, and the space it gave did not meet with the approval of the court, Judge J. V. Kesterson, Judge J. L. McCurdy, and Judge Ed. Callis.

The three judges conferred further with the architect and decided, with a small amount more money the entire jail part of the building could be reconstructed to better serve the county. Hence plans are now being drafted by Mr. Schwartz.

Separate Quarters

Judge Kesterson, presiding judge, in telling of the planned improvement said it is being so drafted that there will be separate quarters for women prisoners, men prisoners, juveniles who must be held and for the insane patients. This jail proper will be erected first and so arranged that later on the living quarters for the jailer can be added. The jail building will connect with the present living quarters of the jailer which are facing Lamine avenue.

The reason for planning the jail and living quarters on "installments" is so the money can be taken from the surplus county funds, and at the same time not "dig too deeply" to affect the surplus, leaving a goodly balance in the county treasury in case of an emergency.

"We feel," Kesterson said, "a bond election would cost $4,000, the county has a good surplus and with not holding an election this money would be a big help in starting the jail, and at the same time not put a heavy drain on it. The jail proper can be built for around $20,000 and we can use part of the present jail equipment, and later when equipment is made available we can replace that which is obsolete."

Interior Can Wait

"As to the new equipment, the interior can wait until conditions are more normal. What we are interested in now is to get the main building up, make it more sanitary than the present set-up, and separate the various departments," he said.

The court also said as soon as the architect plans are approved by the court, bids for construction will be asked.

It is not contemplated to complete the entire building this year, but the main jail part is expected to be well underway this fall and may be completed by the first of the year. The living quarters will be built later on, possibly waiting until the war is over and conditions become more normal, it was indicated.

Resignation Of Arnold Announced

Wants to Return To Private Law Practice

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—The White House today announced the resignation of Justice Thurman Arnold of the United States Court of Appeals in Washington, effective July 10.

Arnold formerly headed the anti-trust divisions of the Justice Department.

At the same time the White House announced the resignation of E. Eugene Casey, long-time executive assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Casey, a lieutenant commander in the navy, is now on duty in the Pacific.

Justice Arnold said in his letter of resignation that he wants to return to private law practice "to further the cause which was my chief interest in the department of Justice."

"I believe that economic forces are moving toward freedom of business opportunity and a truly competitive economy in the post-war world," he said. "Industrial invention and a new age of transportation have created industrial opportunities for all sections of this country which never existed before."

Loss To The Bench
"Full production after the war, and the elasticity of our economy, depend on the release of new and independent initiative in industry. This, I think, must be the direction of a successful liberal movement in America."

The letter was dated July 3.

In accepting Arnold's resignation "regrettably," Mr. Truman said:

"I consider this a great loss to the bench."

In accepting Casey's resignation, President Truman expressed appreciation over the former's government service.

(Justice Arnold's wife is the former Miss Frances Logan, former Sedalia, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. George F. Logan.)

Hirohito Shifts Generals

Powerful Air Blows Cut Into Enemy Shipping. Manufacture, Planes

By Leonard Milliman

Associated Press War Editor
Emperor Hirohito's military leaders reshuffled eight generals today as Tokyo broadcasts reported 300 American raiders from Okinawa and Iwo Jima struck at Japan again today, continuing yesterday's powerful blows which cut deeper into Nippon's manufacturing, shipping, and air power.

Simultaneously the U. S. navy department acknowledged the loss of the submarine Trigger with her crew of 80 or more men. It was the 45th submarine lost.

Japan's army shake-up included two military defense districts bearing the weight of meeting threatened invasion, including the Tokyo metropolitan area. Generals changing jobs included the head of the military propaganda section.

The enemy report on today's air strikes said 100 Mustang fighter planes from Iwo Jima, guided by nine Superforts, hammered air-dromes near Tokyo while 200 fighters and bombers raided Kyushu Island. Both would be repeat performances of two phases of yesterday's extensive aerial blows which set four Japanese cities afire, wrecked 22 ships, destroyed 22 Nipponese planes and bombed dozens of air fields from Tokyo to Java.

Tokyo Boasts
Despite increasing American air blows concentrated on Nippon aircraft production, Tokyo radio boasted that "amazing numbers" of planes were being produced in bomb-proof underground factories, so cleverly hidden that scouting American planes couldn't find them.

Approximately 800 American planes were involved in yesterday's strikes at Japan. Iwo Jima sent 150 Mustang fighters over six Tokyo airfields, presumably the same ones hit again today, during which one squadron tried for more than an hour to get the enemy to come up and fight. From Okinawa 130 army and marine planes raked two airfields on Kyushu Island, also attacked by other air groups.

Two B-29s failed to return from the day's heaviest strike, a 500 plane fire raid on four Japanese cities, which returning crewmen said set off "plenty of fireworks on the ground" and gave them their "most glorious fourth."

Bomb Two Destroyers
Nipponese ships hit included two destroyers bombed in the Yellow sea. The U. S. navy announced yesterday the American destroyers Twigg and William D. Porter were sunk by enemy air attacks during the Okinawa operation with 244 casualties. The bow was blown off the Twigg and all her officers killed.

On the ground, Australian forces seized Balikpapan, Borneo's richest oil port, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur officially proclaimed the liberation of the Philippines.

Approximately 420,000 Japanese were killed in the campaign, during which 17 American divisions liquidated 23 divisions of the Mikado's troops. An estimated 30,000 enemy soldiers remain to be hunted down in mountain areas. American casualties totaled 54,891, including 11,921 killed, 410 missing and 42,569 wounded.

Transport in With 7,028 Men

NEW YORK, July 5.—(P)—The transport Robert Harrison, a day late because of fog, arrived today with 372 men for reassignment.

She was one of three ships due today with a total of 7,028 troops. The others are the Marine Dragon, with 3,088 reassignment troops, and the George Washington with 2,541 casualties and 1,027 reassignment troops.

The men aboard the Harrison were members of five units—the First Ordnance company, the 3,444th Ordnance company, the Seventh General Dispensary company of the Medical Corps, the 311th Army Postal unit and the 68th Finance Disbursing section. The men were taken by buses to Camp Shanks.

On the Robert Harrison was Herman the German, an airfield owned by Capt. Henley E. Reed of King City, Mo., commanding officer of the 3,444th who got him as a pup near Munich.

Marine Evacuation Hospital is Closing, Has Completed Its Job

By Bonnie Wiley
OKINAWA—(P)—A Pacific war experiment—a marine evacuation hospital originally manned entirely by navy personnel is ready to close, its job of evacuating the wounded completed.
Nine wards were in cellars dug 10 feet down. These were reserved for patients who could not be moved no matter how close enemy bombs fell during the campaign to wrest Okinawa from the Japanese.
Twenty-one wards were in sandbagged revetments and the remainder were in tents with foxholes for the walking wounded.
Tragedy hit this hospital in May when a bombing and strafing by Japanese planes cost 13 lives and wounded 31.
"A real hero was killed," said Capt. Walter F. Karbach, 115 Lewis street, San Antonio, Tex., commanding officer of the hospital.
"He was one of our loyal hospital corpsmen off duty and could have jumped into a foxhole. But instead he rushed into the wards to help with the wounded."
Captain Gave His Life
"When the going was roughest he shoved a patient against a wall and threw himself in front of the man. Both were hit. The wounded man was slightly injured but the corpsman was killed."
Operating rooms buried in the ground look like something from a fantastic story, but in those rooms countless lives were saved.
"Ninety per cent of our cases were surgical," said Capt. Daniel W. Wheeler, 1711 Wallace avenue, Duluth, Minn., the executive officer.
"The casualties were more mutilated than any I ever had seen before," Karbach declared.
On the peak day 540 patients were evacuated by the hospital, mostly by air.
"It really was a hard job, but a speedy one," Karbach said. "The most unusual part was the bringing to us by Cub planes from the front lines men who had been hit only 20 minutes before."

Cards Arrive A Little Late

HERMANN, Mo., July 5.—(P)—Radioman (first class) Ruben Gaertner arrived home yesterday from Washington on unexpected leave, hoping to surprise his family, but was himself surprised when he found they had been looking for him for several days.
Last week his family had received postcards from Gaertner, postmarked St. John's Newfoundland, on which he had written, "See you soon."
Today Gaertner recalled that he had written the cards in St. John's in February, 1943, while en route to the United States after 18 months coast guard duty in Newfoundland. The picture postcards apparently were held up until late last month by railway censorship, as they were views of St. John's harbor.

United Nations Adviser Visits Relatives Here

Prof. Harry Howard, of Washington, D. C., official technical adviser on regional problems in the United Nations conference in San Francisco, arrived in Sedalia last Saturday to join Mrs. Howard and their two children, Robert and Norman, who had been guests of Mrs. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brubaker, 1704 East Sixteenth street, for two weeks. Tuesday the family went to Kansas City where Prof. Howard was to attend a meeting, and after spending two weeks with relatives in Excelsior Springs, they will return to Sedalia for a visit before going to Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker had their children and families with them Sunday for the first time in four years. Mrs. R. G. Wiley and her son, Richard, came from Columbia last Wednesday and returned Sunday; Miss Helen Brubaker was here from Jefferson City, and joining them for the day was Mrs. Walter Banning, Mr. Banning and children, Ralph and Emily, who live in Sedalia.

Mrs. Brubaker and Mrs. Banning were called to Columbia yesterday by the illness of Mrs. Wiley. She was improved when they returned that evening, and Mrs. Banning's daughter, Emily, will stay with her for a few days.

Kill More Than 200 Japanese

CHUNGKING, July 5.—(AP)—American fighters "concentrated on the Japanese withdrawal from French Indo-China through Hainan strait" yesterday killing more than 200 in small craft skirting Tonkin gulf, a U. S. communique from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said today.

Authorities said there was no indication of large scale withdrawals from Indo-China, pointing out the small size of the force attacked.

The Chinese high command announced a series of successes including capture of the important center of Fahsien, 210 miles southeast of Luichow, and an advance to the Lojung area 20 miles northeast of Luichow.

The American fliers destroyed or damaged 33 locomotives, mostly around the yellow river, and knocked out numerous junks, sampans, barges and power boats on the Siang and West rivers.

Fahsien was retaken three days ago in a counterattack started July 2. The Japanese were believed to have fought to hold the road center to safeguard communication with Hainan island. The communique said the Japanese retreated westward.

The high command announced belatedly that regulars and local militia on June 23 recaptured Pingnam on the West river, 85 miles southeast of Luichow and less than 15 miles from the former American air base at Tanchuk. Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's fliers abandoned Tanchuk last September 21.

Gen. MacArthur Makes Denial

HEADQUARTERS, Army Forces of the Pacific, July 7.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today denied that he had advised Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland to return to the United States because of the political situation in the Philippines, as reported by Columnist Drew Pearson.

"I did not discuss Philippine politics with Senator Tydings or any member of his committee," MacArthur said. "So far as I know the length of the stay of his committee was determined entirely by the time necessary to accomplish its mission. It apparently finished its work and then left for home."

Pearson reported Tuesday that MacArthur was convinced the Filipino underground was the strongest political group in the Philippines. On this basis, the columnist said, MacArthur advised Tydings that a protracted discussion of independence and reconstruction loans with President Sergio Osmeña's government would merely be carrying on negotiations with a government which would be out of power after November.

Youth Admits Taking Auto

A seventeen years old boy from Taft, Calif., was arrested about 5:30 o'clock this morning by State Trooper Pete Stohr, just north of the Cole Camp junction of highway 65, in a 1941 Oldsmobile sedan, reported stolen in Texas. The boy ran from police at Springfield, where it was reported, he field, where it was reported he to steal gasoline, the companion being arrested by police there.

The youth, Robert Long, 17, 510 Tyler, Taft, Calif., said he and his companion Clare Bupp, 17, also of Taft, had gotten to a place in Texas. They entered a garage when it was open, he told Trooper Stohr, and after it was locked by the operator, they picked out the Oldsmobile, unlocked the door and drove away.

They reached Springfield and running low on gasoline decided to try and steal some from other automobiles. It was during this venture that Springfield police came upon them. Long succeeded in escaping in the car while Bupp was caught.

Long was taken to Warsaw, Mo., where he was locked in the Benton county jail and released to the sheriff from Greene county early today.

Trooper Stohr received a call from Springfield about 4:30 o'clock this morning, stating the boy was headed this way and a description of the car was given by the Bupp boy. He then started south on highway 52 and met the car near the junction. The boy admitted taking the automobile.

Yank Zone to Gen. Bradley

BERLIN, July 5—(P)—Maj. Gen. Nikolai N. Barinov, Soviet commander in Berlin, formally turned the American occupation zone in the German capital over to Gen. Omar N. Bradley yesterday at ceremonies in which the American flag was raised over the Adolf Hitler barracks.

A 48-gun salute boomed out as the stars and stripes went up beside the Red flag in the square where Adolf Hitler's enemies were purged by the Gestapo in mass executions 11 years ago.

"The raising of the American flag side by side with that of the Soviet Union symbolizes not only our unity in the past but, in a greater sense, in the further fight against Fascism and for democracy," Barinov said in a brief speech.

Bradley replied: "This victory is made possible by all working together. We hope our close relationship will continue so that never again will it be necessary to conquer any nation as was necessary in the case of Germany, which desired to rule her neighbors."

A New "House of Magic" for Postwar America

"...one of the strongest guarantees of progress and world peace is continuous scientific preparedness through industrial research."

General Electric

"General Electric has approved plans for a new $8,000,000 Research Laboratory. This expenditure has tremendous significance. Scientific research has contributed much to our progress as a nation.

"Many things have been discovered during this war, and we can and must develop them into better things for peacetime.

"Today we have 550 research people on our staff. These new facilities will not only give increased outlet for their abilities, but will provide opportunities for new research minds with new talents.

"From this new laboratory we think new achievements will come. In the past, G-E research has contributed much to better living in America—not only through new developments in x-ray, electricity, metallurgy, electronics and chemistry, but also through reduced cost and increased efficiency, as in the modern incandescent lamp.

"Even more than in the past the laboratory will emphasize research in pure science—continuing and expanding the work begun by Dr. Whitney and the late Dr. Steinmetz forty-five years ago.

"To find new facts of the physical world, to extend the limits of knowledge, is a forward step in creating More Goods for More People at Less Cost."

Combat Troops Now in Occupation Army Find Peaceful Life Pleasant, Dull

By NEA Service
Warriors who stormed across Germany just a little while ago have swapped the exciting life of combat troops for the quiet routine of the Army of Occupation. Men who once spearheaded General Patton's hard-hitting Third army drives now form a small garrison of occupation forces in the tiny, ancient town of Vilshelm in Lower Bavaria. They are the tank crews of Company B of the 8th Battalion, 4th Armored division. NEA-Acme photographer Chas.

Haacker visited Vilshelm to make this picture story of life in an occupation garrison. For his pictorial record, he selected rugged, young T/5 Melville Walsh, of The Bronx, New York, as a typical trooper. Walsh, who has collected three Purple Hearts in four years of military service, started as a medical aid man. He later volunteered for service as a member of a tank crew. By VE-Day he had become a tank commander. Only the Table of Organization has kept him from attaining a rank higher than technician fifth grade.

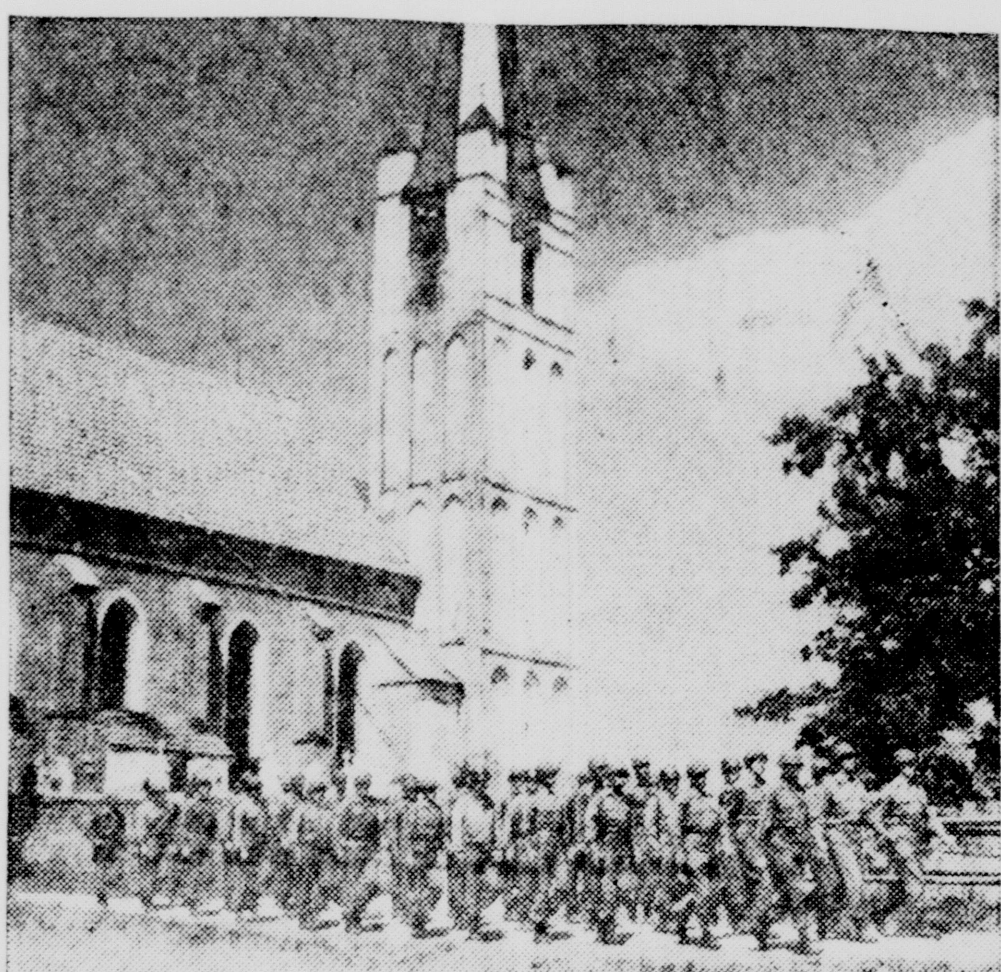

Here, as Walsh might have written it to the folks back home, is the story of life in an Army of Occupation garrison.

DEAR FOLKS: Look at me, a guy who grew up in the crowded Bronx, stretched out in a hay field by the side of a stream. This is beautiful country. The farmers are busy now, just as they were in the old days, getting in their crops. It's a terrific letdown from fighting days.

THIS IS HOME, a school built on the site of the medieval castle of Vilshelm. What luxury we have now, after sleeping in our tanks or in foxholes at the front. Some of my buddies are playing ball on the lawn that leads down to the place where the castle moat used to be.

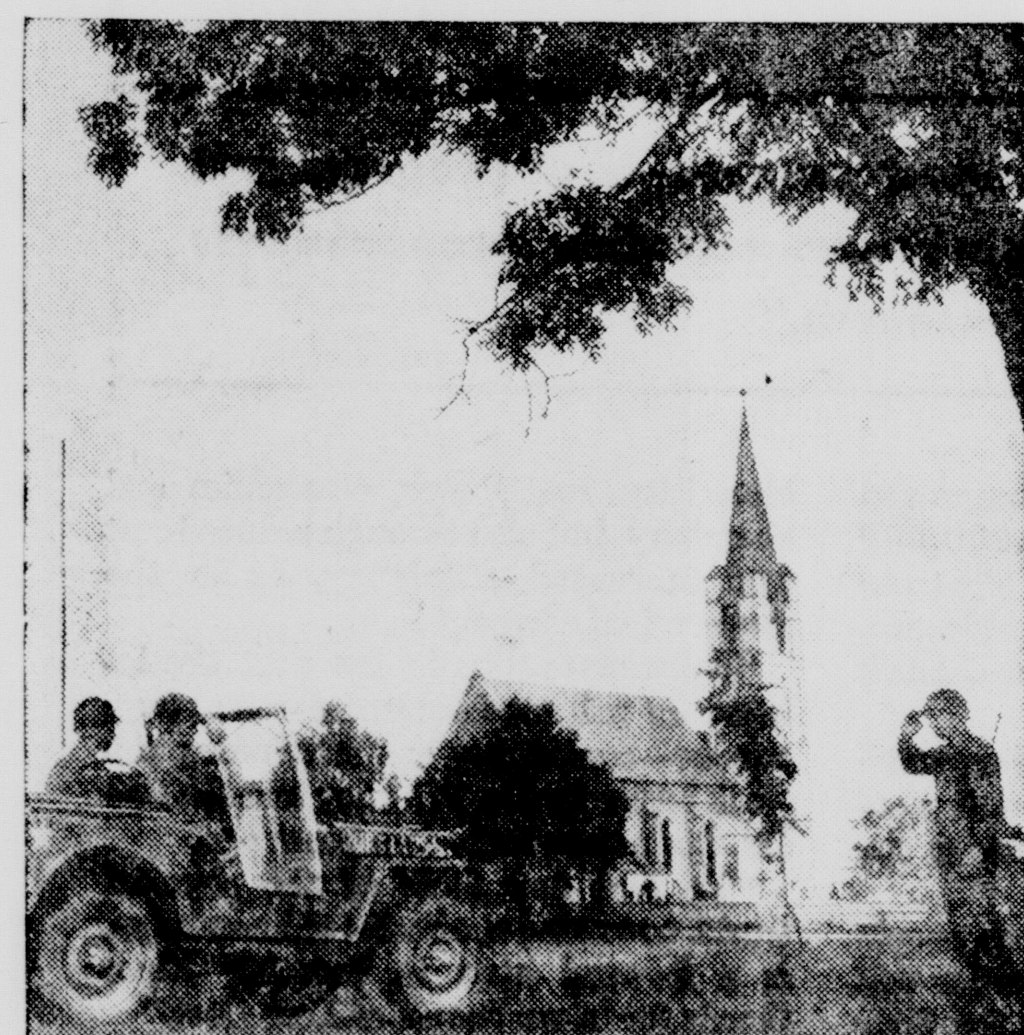

CLOSE ORDER DRILL is something we had forgotten almost entirely. When we were chasing the Krauts, we got plenty of exercise. We were too tired to march. Now we keep in shape with daily drill sessions, and calisthenics too. It's just like the old days at training camp, except that the countryside is different. The church in the background is a landmark of the town.

A DREAM COME TRUE is this warm, dry room, where we sleep in comfortable bunks. We used to sack in wherever we stopped. We'd roll up in a blanket and sleep where we could. Usually we'd dig a foxhole or settle for whatever comfort our tanks afforded. I have the lower berth and my bunkmate, T/4 George McGuire, of Barrett, W. Va., takes the upper. Believe me, it's a pleasure.

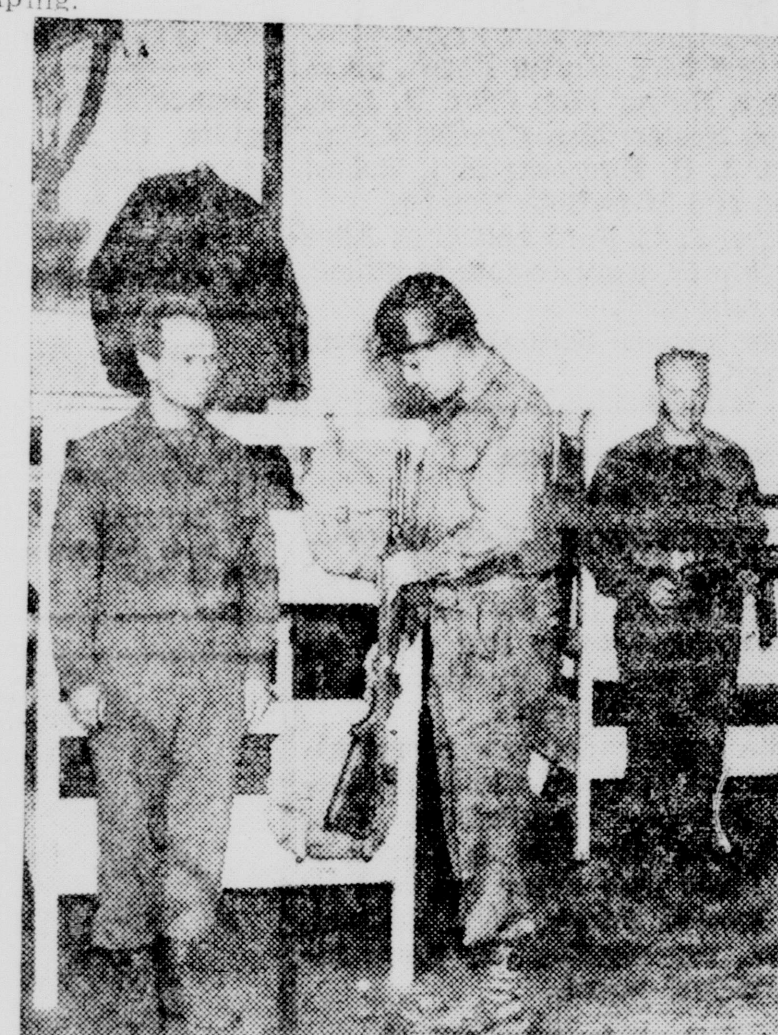

TANKS GET A REST, too. We have them lined up in a motor park, and they are given good care. We've painted the tanks as protection against rust, and we frequently clean the gun bores to remove the final residue of fouling from the last battles. In this picture I'm greasing parts of the track, while my buddies work on other parts of the tank. Each crew takes care of its own equipment. This job takes up a fair share of our time and helps to relieve boredom and monotony. Baseball, incidentally, is our favorite spare-time recreation—next to griping.

Salute is a common sight in the garrison. Soldiers saluted much about saluting when we were busy fighting. Now we salute often enough to maintain a certain amount of dignity, courtesy and discipline. We're all careful as hell not to overdo it, though. We don't want to imitate the rear area commandos—the guys who seem to live just to salute. That's me, on sentry duty, saluting an officer.

"SPIT AND POLISH" are part of our routine again. We were too busy to care much about appearance during the fighting days. Sgt. Gordon C. Hummel, Lansford, Pa., is dressing his boots while Pfc. James S. Richmond, of Baden City, W. Va., shaves in our outdoor barber shop.

INSPECTION of our billets is conducted every day. We keep our bunks ship-shape and our gear properly placed. Lt. Eugene C. Martin is checking Cpl. John J. Kolovsky, New York, while Pfc. Anthony Butera, of Syracuse, N. Y., stands at attention. Garrison life is certainly different.

BEER—all we can drink—is rolled up in kegs right to our doorstep. Boy, after drinking nothing but chlorinated water at the front, does this ever taste good! I'm playing bartender.

LIFE in the Occupation Forces isn't rough. As a matter of fact, most of our fellows gripe because it's too tame. With us it's a constant struggle against boredom and monotony.

Most of our fellows, I'm sure, miss the element of danger which was our daily risk for so many months. We're right back where we started from—leading the life we led in training camps back home.

We hardly recognize ourselves in clean ODs after wearing dirty combat clothes and helmets for so long. We stand reveille, pull a lot of guard duty, go through the usual inspections, and go to sleep at regular curfew hours.

We know that the army is trying to make life in Germany as attractive as possible for us. An educational program is set to go, and lots of the men want to get more schooling. Sports equipment hasn't caught up with a lot of units yet, but we know that there will be a pretty good recreation program under way before long.

But you can't blame us for feeling we want to get home, to the good old U.S., as soon as we can. For us, service in the Army of Occupation is definitely a matter of sweating out points while waiting to come home.

Sincerely,
T/5 Melville Walsh.

Merry Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 5—Chances are Harry Hopkins won't go to Berlin for the Big Three meeting. Chief reason: Health. Whenever Harry goes away on trips, he forgets to take his pills and has a setback. . . . Another reason may be that Hopkins and Byrnes don't get along. It was Hopkins who last December persuaded FDR to appoint Stettinius rather than Byrnes as secretary of state. . . . Truman, incidentally is strong for Hopkins, urged him to be U. S. ambassador to Moscow. Again health intervened. . . . It's interesting to see how public opinion has changed regarding Hopkins, now that he is advising Truman instead of FDR. Everybody cursed him before; now they praise him for straightening out Poland. Part of the old enmity against Hopkins was the natural jealousy toward anyone close to the throne. With Truman, people know he is welcome but not close.

The old hullabaloo of artillery shells not reaching the western front is now being settled once and for all by the Mead committee. Careful Senator Kilgore of West Virginia interviewed high ranking generals at the front who swore there was no shell shortage. . . . General Somervell and Under Secretary of War Patterson had screamed that the home front had fallen down. Even Jimmy Byrnes fell for this one. . . . Though Truman has brought a lot of westerners into the cabinet, actually three New Yorkers remain. They are: Stimson (War); Forrestal (Navy); Morgenthau (treasury). The fourth New Yorker, Miss Perkins, stepped down. . . . Here is the geographical layout of the rest of the cabinet: Texas—(Clark—attorney general) Illinois—(Jokes—Interior); Iowa—(Wallace—Commerce); New Mexico—(Anderson—Agriculture) Washington—(Schwellenbach—Labor); South Carolina—(Byrnes—State); Missouri (Hannegan—post office) . . . Then, of course, Harry Truman himself, also from Missouri. So it looks as if the west was pretty well represented.

Chalk up a belated victory to the little group of senators who opposed the Stettinius state department team. President Truman has now pretty much recognized the validity of their opposition. The senators who rebelled against the Stettinius team were: Florida's Pepper, Pennsylvania's Guffey, Montana's Murray, Kentucky's Chandler, Wisconsin's LaFollette, North Dakota's Langer and Vermont's Aiken. . . . Langer was the only senator who had the courage to get up and make a speech against Stettinius. He pointed out that he had nothing personal against him, but that Stettinius just hadn't the proper background for secretary of state. Truman has now agreed with Langer. . . . Leo Pasvolosky, gnome-like ex-White Russian master mind of the San Francisco charter, probably will accompany Ed Stettinius as adviser to the United Nations. . . . William Paley, former head of Columbia Broadcasting, now deputy head of army's psychological warfare, has submitted a secret memo to OWI urging a German radio network. Funny thing is that Paley wants it operated by Germans.

Inside reason why the London Poles die such a slow death: There is a stake of $60,000,000 in gold in London which the London Poles control as long as they have a government. . . . International Harvester, Standard Oil, General Motors and International Tel. and Tel. have been trying to find out what happened to their investments in Hungary and Rumania. So far the Russians won't let 'em send a single man inside those two countries. . . . A group of Belgian political leaders visited King Leopold in Austria to get his ideas on the future of their country. His answers were so out of step with New Europe that even the

Came the Dawn of the Ninth Year of War

Catholic leaders, hitherto favoring the king's return, seriously considered revising their position.

Pressure is increasing for publication of Truman's directive on a hard peace for Germany. This directive, "No. 1067," was written shortly after the armistice and Truman OK'd its publication. But suddenly Lewis Douglas, head of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, flew back from Germany to get it hushed up. He worked on his brother-in-law, assistant secretary of war Jack McCloy, who wired Eisenhower to ask whether he wanted the directive and Ike played into the soft-peace crowd's hands by saying "No." . . . Reason for the interest in publication of "1067" boils down to this: If the troops and junior officers know what Truman has ordered, they are more likely to see that orders aren't twisted by any soft-peace boys on top. . . . It remains a fact that some of the soft peace crowd still are urging that Germany must be built up as a bulwark against Russia. And the boys who administer the directive can interpret it their own way — as long as other people don't know what's in it. . . . It was a surprise to most people that Lew Douglas was over in Germany. He has been in and out of government like a shuttlecock. First he was FDR's budget director, resigned in a huff, then came back as deputy war shipping administrator, but rowed with Admiral Land and went back to insurance. Now he is back in government, helping to run Germany.

Truman has offered Ike's job to three old friends, but all three turned it down with the advice that the best man for the job was already holding it. . . . Governor Mon Wallgren of Washington with whom Truman talked several weeks ago, replied: "What's the matter with the man you've got as secretary of the interior? You can't improve him." . . . Before Congressman Clinton Anderson was offered the department of agriculture, Truman talked to him about being secretary of the interior. Anderson paid tribute to Ike's and declined. . . . Third potential candidate was Judge Sherman Minton, former senator from Indiana. He also replied that the best man was already in the job. . . . When Bob Hannegan was sworn in as postmaster general, he paid sincere tribute to retiring postmaster Frank Walker. . . . "Frank was the first man to suggest that I become chairman of the national committee," Hannegan said, "and he was the first man to suggest that I should fill his shoes as postmaster general." . . . Hannegan voiced what many feel about Frank Walker — one of the most unselfish, lovable persons ever to hold high office. . . . When gracious Senator Tom Connally spoke at the swearing-in ceremony of Attorney General Tom Clark, he began: "General Biddle, General Clark, and any other generals who may be here." . . . Homey Tom Clark didn't lose his sense of humor when he took the oath. After making an appropriate speech, he said: "Now I want you to meet the folks." First he introduced his 78-year-old mother, then his wife, "Mama can walk down here with me," he said, leading Mrs. Clark to the speaker's rostrum. Then came his 16-year-old son, Ramsey, who is taller than his father, "Mama produces 'em big," introduced the new attorney general.

When the GIs at Camp Lee, Va., were ordered to attend the Bill Tilden-Vincent Richards exhibition tennis match recently, all spectators were required to stand up and salute when Gen. James H. Johnson arrived. . . . Believe it or not, you can't repair a horse. So thinks the office of surplus property, which recently asked

A Chinese Soldier's Idea of Heaven: 'Good Food, Clothes, Ammunition And a Chance to Kill More Japs'

Sure-footed pack mule provides transportation for Lt. Gen. Dan I. Sultan over a steep jungle trail. General Sultan finds some of the qualities that make the GI an outstanding fighter interest in the Chinese soldier, too.

Harry Grayson is on special assignment for NEA Service and The Sedalia Democrat-Capital in the China-Burma-India theater of operations. Here is another of his "true" dispatches—this one from Calcutta, India.

ed for bids on the purchase of a half-dozen horses. All were rated by the agency as "usable without repairs." Rankin Outsmarts Himself
It looks as if Representative John Rankin outsmarted himself as well as his colleagues when he surprised everybody last January by moving that the house committee on un-American activities be made a permanent committee. Liberal congressmen were preparing to fight any move to extend the life of the special committee headed by Martin Dies, but were unprepared to fight Rankin's sudden move. Now that chairman Ed Hart of New Jersey, now in bad health, has resigned from the committee, Rankin is next in line to chairmanship. But he is gnashing his teeth over the fact that he cannot take the chair without relinquishing the chairmanship of the World War veteran's committee. (It is against the rules for a single member of the house to preside over two standing committees simultaneously.) If, however, the un-American activities committee were a special committee, as it had been in the past, Rankin could become its chairman without having to give up his other committee post. Thus he could now have the pleasure of leading all the witch hunting of that committee. However, he made the mistake last January of making the old Dies committee a "standing" not a "special" committee.

Just Town Talk

IT WAS A VERY QUIET FOURTH OF JULY IN THIS VICINITY THERE WERE FEW FIRECRACKERS PEOPLE GENERALLY WERE WAR MINDED AND REALIZED THE RETURNED VETERANS HAD ALL THE NOISE AND EXPLOSIONS THEY COULD TAKE FOR AWHILE ONE BOY WHO LIVES IN THE COUNTRY AND COULD SHOOT FIRECRACKERS WITHOUT DISTURBING ANYONE WAS THE ONLY CASUALTY I SAW ALL DAY HE HAD THREE FINGERS WRAPPED UP BUT THEY WERE NOT BOTHERING HIM AT ALL THE THING THAT WORRIED HIM WAS THE FACT HE BOUGHT THE FIRECRACKERS WITH HIS OWN MONEY I THANK YOU principal role in this campaign.

Political corruption and want greatly retarded the Chinese soldier, but, speaking from experience, General Sultan testifies that properly trained, equipped and supervised, he'll go to town. "You must call him a Chinese and not a Chinaman," cautions General Sultan, a medium-sized Mississippian who in appearance greatly resembles the late Gen. Hugh Johnson. "Americans at home may have gathered that he is a docile sort, but nothing could be farther from the truth. He's independent, possessing many good old GI qualities, not the least of which is that he will not bow or kowtow to anyone. If you don't get out of the way, he'll shove you off the trail, and no one is shoving him off."

Life Is Cheap

General Sultan relates a story giving you an insight into the psychology of the Chinese soldier. A patrol from the Chinese Army in Burma was moving toward a meeting at Namhkan with another from the Chinese Expeditionary Force trained in China. "Good food and clothes, a hospital when you get sick and the plenty of ammunition," remarked one of the Chinese troopers as he trudged along. "And all they ask you to do is kill Japs."

Closely related to the air supply mission of the Eastern Air Command was its troop carrier mission. Movement of a large number of troops by air was also a standard operation. When the Japs were hammering at Imphal, two full divisions, complete with equipment, were flown in from the Arakan. The attack on Myitkyna was sustained with troops flown into its captured air strip, which was constantly under fire. "On one such flight a Chinese soldier ventured up to an open door, and with a hand hold on each side, stood there enjoying the scenery," recalls General Sultan. "Another soldier motioned as if to shove him out and, encouraged by others, did precisely that. They all took it as a huge joke, one of them remarking that the man who was shoved would hit the ground first. Life is cheap to them."

Jap Is Nasty, But Dumb

"Face is as important to them as it is to the Japs. They'll follow their leader right down the barrel of a Jap gun. They can take it as well as dish it out, and

WE FLEW Without GUNS

This is a true story of the men who fly the "hump"—carrying passengers and cargo over the high Himalayas between India and China. Pilots call it the toughest airline route in the world.

"PUPS ARE NOT ALLOWED"

XXI
"SO sorry, Sahib," the hotel clerk said when he saw Spitfire and Margot poke their heads out of the basket and blink up at him there in the lobby. "Pups are not allowed in the hotel. Government regulations."

"These aren't pups," I said. "They're kittens, and they won't cause any trouble. We'll keep them right in our room. They're the quietest and cleanest little fellows you ever saw. They'll be all right—"

"I cannot help it, Sahib. They cannot be kept in the hotel," Gingiss picked up the basket and said, "Go ahead and sign for a room, Gen. I'll take the cats to a veterinary and board them until we leave."

That was an easy solution. There was a small veterinary shop a couple of blocks from the hotel, and the old Englishman who operated it was familiar with baby leopards. He told us about giving them barley water with their milk as a means of helping digestion; he also gave them their first taste of meat.

Tony Mercedes and Suzy Q arrived in Karachi a day ahead of his original schedule, so we immediately arranged for train transportation to Bombay. The trip to Bombay is about 700 miles through desert country, and the passenger accommodations are more or less an afterthought, consisting of one or two sleeping cars casually added onto a slow, noisy line of freight cars. Even so, the compartments were all well filled and it cost us an extra five rupees to get the conductor to assure us a compartment to ourselves.

As we showed our tickets before climbing aboard, the uniformed inspector looked suspiciously at the big basket I was carrying. "What's in there?" he asked snappishly. "No pup, allowed on the train, you know."

"Pups?" I repeated, laughing as if that were a very funny joke. "What would I be doing with pups? This is just our laundry—soiled cloth, you know." I took hold of the shirtdial that I had left showing from under the newly acquired cover for the basket. "Best not to get the dirty things mixed up with the clean!" I explained airily—and hustled on ahead of Gingiss and Tony. One of the little devils tucked in there under the dirty shirts was starting to whine. . . . Before we reached Bombay we had refused five times to allow anyone, even the conductor, to enter our compartment.

ONCE during the night the train stopped on . . . siding some distance out of the next village. Gingiss and I stepped outside for a few minutes, leaving Tony to guard the cats. The heat and the sand blowing into the compartment had been bad enough all day, but the increasingly foul smell of the cats was making the night really wretched. Standing out there breathing in clean air was a treat. Gingiss thought it would be a good idea to bring the cats out and air them and their basket and as far as we could figure it out later, that must have been when the cats were discovered.

In the morning, about an hour before we were due in Bombay, the smell was almost as bad as it had been before the airing, and I knew that we had no chance of fooling the inspectors who would be waiting to inspect everyone's baggage at the depot.

Finally we got an idea. We had noticed that the train always slowed down to a bare crawl as it approached a station, so Gingiss was elected to jump off the train with the cats as soon as we got to the outskirts of town. We emptied the clothes out of two canvas duffle bags, cut holes in their sides, and put the cats into them; Spitfire in one and the two females in the other. Then we opened the compartment door and tossed the basket—fetid smells and all—out on the sand. When the train slowed down to about five miles an hour a few minutes after we entered the city, Gingiss said, "If I'm not at the Delamar Hotel in half an hour you'll find me in the clink." Then he took the two bags in one hand swung himself to the ground with the other and was gone.

The minute the train stopped there was a pounding on our compartment door. Tony turned the handle and two burly Indians wearing baggage inspector's uniforms barged in. "You got some pups in here!" one of them shouted. "We got a wire. Where they at?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," I said. "You can see for yourself that there aren't any pups in here."

"You got them in a basket," the man said angrily, his flinty brown eyes scanning the little room.

Tony growled and his big ham of a hand pushed me to one side as he moved forward, shoulders hunched menacingly. "Get out of here, you fools," he said. "The wire was mistaken. You can see that for yourself. Now beat it."

The two men looked at each other in bewilderment. They glanced around the compartment again, but there was no sign of pups or basket. At last they shrugged, mumbled their apologies, and withdrew. Tony and I, with a show of great indignation, summoned a porter to handle our bags and stalked from the train. (To Be Continued)

Supt. N. J. Finney of the M. K. & T. and E. R. During the month of June, the month of marriages, Deputy Recorder Charles S. Williams issued 30 marriage licenses or four less than for the corresponding month last year, which by the way, was World's Fair year during which period many young couples got married and spent a portion of the honeymoon at the great exposition.

The Pettis county court transacted considerable routine business today and allowed the criminal fee bills for June, amounting to $998.95.

How To Celebrate Independence Day

The men down at Sam Abernathy's store were talking about what they were going to do on the Fourth of July. Ed Carey said that his missus, Sarah, had been after him to fix a leak in their roof. Dan Culpin figured he'd just sit out under a tree, if it's a nice day, and write a long letter to his boy out in the Pacific somewhere. Homer Bentley and some of the other fellows said they were going fishing.

if they didn't get anything else done, they'd buy an extra War Bond to help the Seventh War Loan campaign along.

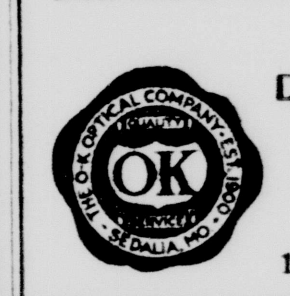

From where I sit, that's the best way to insure the independence we won so long ago and that we're fighting again to preserve . . . independence for ourselves and for the other fellow, no matter how different his views may be from ours.

Brothers Meet In Germany

Mrs. Frances Donath, 1505 East Fourth street, received letters from her sons, Sgt. Donald Donath and T/4 Frank Donath, after they had met in Germany.

Sgt. Donald Donath's letter written from Inzell, Germany, where he is stationed, stated in part: "I got to see Frank on Tuesday, June 19. Mom, he really looked swell, but is awfully homesick. I took a couple of pictures of him, we are together in one of them. I'll send it to you as soon as I get it developed. I met him in Furte, Germany, a suburb of Nuremberg. I am going to try to see him again. He has an awful easy go of it now as the Germans are doing all the work. All his outfit does is supervise the work. The bad part of it is that they can't go any place. I'll still take my outfit."

This was the first time the two brothers had seen each other for two and a half years. Donald entered service in March 1942 and went overseas last February.

Frank joined the army December 1941 and was sent overseas in December 1943.

Mrs. Donath has two other sons in service, Horace, who is a paratrooper at Fort Benning, Ga. and William who is a machinist mate in the Seabees.

Old Hoover regime slogan, "Two Chickens in Every Pot," practically comes true under program of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. Line has leased a chicken ranch at Lincoln, Neb., and expects to produce 30,000—about one-third of its annual dining car requirements—on the ranch. Above, Chef Dave Fleming shows meat-hungry civilians what a chicken looks like.

Shortcake shorts

A luscious fruit or berry shortcake of the season to top off a light summer meal . . . it's satisfying, and a delicious answer to the family's sweet tooth. Try one of these to round out a summer menu.

FRUIT OR BERRY SHORTCAKE

3 cups all-purpose flour 1/2 cup shortening
4 tps. baking 1 egg
4 tps. sugar 1 cup milk
2 tps. sugar 4 cups sweetened fresh fruit or berries
1 tsp. salt

Sift and measure flour, sift again with baking powder, sugar, and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture is very fine. Beat egg; combine with milk; then stir into flour mixture. Knead gently; roll out about 1/2 inch thick.

INDIVIDUAL SHORTCAKE

Cut out 12 rounds, using 3-inch biscuit cutter (or cut 6 plain and 6 with doughnut cutter). Make shortcake by brushing six rounds with melted butter or shortening and topping with remaining rounds. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes or until done. Split hot shortcakes; fill with prepared sweetened fruit or berries; garnish with additional fruit and whipped cream.

FAMILY SHORTCAKE

Divide dough in half; pat gently into two 8-inch cake pans. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) about 20 minutes. Split while warm; fill with sweetened fruit or berries. Serve with top milk or whipped evaporated milk or coffee cream.

HOW TO WHIP EVAPORATED MILK OR COFFEE CREAM

Pour evaporated milk or cream into freezing tray of refrigerator. Chill until ice crystals start to form around the edge. Place in chilled bowl and beat vigorously with rotary beater until thickened and fairly stiff. Flavor with a few drops of vanilla.

Eagles and SAAF Officers In Tie Game

Second Round of Twilight League to Start Next Week

Declared as the best games of any before this season, the two Twilight League softball games played Tuesday night on the Smith-Cotton athletic field ended in a four run tied game between the SAAF Officers and the Missouri Pacific Eagles, and a one run victory game between Sacred Heart and Rosenthals, the score being 7 to 6 in favor of Sacred Heart.

In the Officers vs. Eagles game both teams scored runs in the early stage of the game and play in later innings was a nip and tuck affair. All four of the Officers' runs were made in the first inning with three walks and one hit. However, Luke Hyatt, Eagle pitcher, settled down to retire the Officers during the last innings by hurling nine strike outs.

The Eagles secured their runs along with one walk, one error and three hits in the last of third inning. SAAF pitcher Lane succeeded in getting eight strike outs. Seigel and Norman were the catchers for the Officers and Eagles respectively.

Although this is the first time these teams have met in League play, they have opposed each other before. This game was called because of darkness at the end of the regular softball game, the seventh inning.

Ends The First Round
This was the last game of the first round and the winner was to be declared the first round champion in the split season play. The playoff to the first round will be played at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, July 11, on the Smith-Cotton field, because of the tie between the Officers and the Eagles.

The season champion will be the team which wins two out of three games in the finals.

Sacred Heart Wins
Following the tied game between the Officers and the Eagles Tuesday night, Sacred Heart pushed over three runs in the top half of the seventh inning to defeat Rosenthals by 7 to 6. They did not score until the first of the fourth when they got two runs and added two in the sixth. Then came their game winning rally in the seventh with three runs.

Rosenthal's scoring was: one in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth. Battery for the Sacred Heart aggregation was Hill and Donohoe and Hayes and Schilb for Rosenthals.

Game In Second Round
The schedule for the first game of the second round in which all teams start with a clean slate, is: Sacred Heart vs. SAAF Officers; Montgomery Ward vs. Rosenthals.

Cardinals Beginning To Hit

Which Spells Bad News for the rest of The National League

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are beginning to hit and that's bad news for the rest of the National League.

Topping yesterday's home run fiesta with 27 runs and 36 hits in a double decision over New York, the world champs are making a habit of double number hit totals with an average of 12 safe hits per game in their last 19 starts.

Augie Bergamo was the big slugger of the majors 4th of July celebration that exploded 22 home runs, eleven in each league; into banner turnouts of 209,035 paying customers. The Cardinal outfielder hit two round trippers, one with the sacks loaded, and battered New York pitchers for a total of eight safeties and nine runs batted in for a day he'll never forget.

Ray Sanders and Buster Adams helped Charley Barrett to an 8-4 victory by smashing circuit clouts in the first game rout of Bill Voiselle and two successors but Bergamo was the little man with the wallop who made Bud Beyerly's second game breeze a 19-2 picnic. Eight of Augie's RBI's came in the nightcap as he hit one into the stands with the bases full of Red Birds.

Both the Cards and the Chicago Cubs, who trimmed Boston twice, 5-3 and 7-6, closed in on Brooklyn, whose lead was clipped to 3 1/2 lengths in a split with Cincinnati. Bill Nicholson of the Bruins unloaded a pair of homers to help Hy Vandenberg take the decision over Bob Logan in the finale after Logan had failed as a starter in the opener.

Hal Gregg finally grabbed his 10th victory on the fourth try, becoming the first hurler to hit the mark in the National, as he tossed the Dodgers to a 5-3 edge in the afterpiece against Cinncy. Bucky Walters outpitched Art Herring in the first with the help of four hits by Al Libke, two doubles and a pair of singles, to win 4-3.

The Phillies made life tough for Rip Sewell, knocking him out of the box, in a 7-6 shade over Pittsburgh and Jack Kraus' initial victory after 14 months in the armed services. But Max Butcher lowered the boom on the Phils in the other half, won by Pittsburgh 13-0.

Washington's surge continued to be the most exciting story in the American where the Nats swept a pair from Chicago 5-4 and 11-2 for their 13th decision in their last 17 starts. Marino Pieretti and Mickey Haefer did the pitching and Harland Clift chipped in with 3 homers to boost the Senators into third place, only 4 1/2 games back of Detroit. Clift batted in seven runs in the finale.

The Tigers and Boston split two with ex-servicemen taking the bows in each end. After Dave Ferriss copped his 13th success in the first 4-3, beating Dizzy Trout, Al Benton made his first start, since he broke his leg, a winning one 5-2. The former sailor had to have help from Stubby Overmire in the seventh.

Frankie Hayes was injured in the Cleveland-New York double and had to leave the second game when hit behind the left ear by one of Al Gettel's pitches, perhaps endangering his consecutive game streak. Gettel won that one, 3-2 over Allie Reynolds after Steve

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 5.—(AP)— A brand new idea of eligibility for college athletics may come from last week's meeting of the college baseball coaches, but don't expect the schools to adopt it very soon.

The baseball men, mostly old time professionals themselves, can not see why a boy should become ineligible merely by signing a contract with a league club. . . . In fact, they figure that kids who have tried to win pro jobs and failed might be given some special consideration as college material. . . . After all, that should be sufficient proof that they're not real professionals. . . . And a lot of coaches don't see why a kid should not be allowed to pick up a little change playing ball in the summer. . . . But that reasoning is based on the fact that a baseball player usually pays his own way through college. The eligibility rules are drawn from football, where a good athlete usually can get a free ride — and sometimes more.

Sammy Cooper, kid brother of Mort and Walker, has joined up with Harry James' orchestra. And if anyone asks Harry what Sammy plays, James replies: "He's our pitcher." . . . Lt. Bill Sullivan who will be the Boston Braves' post-war publicity director, has been assigned to Annapolis to beat the drums for navy teams. . . . Fred Hooper has named one of his colts "Flying Pro" after his occasional golfing partner, Johnny Bulla. . . . Hughie Devore, Notre Dame coach, wonders if it wouldn't be a good idea to apply lease-to-lease to football to conform to the ODT request to use home team's equipment whenever possible. "I'd like to use a few of those spare army and navy backs," Devore says.

Lt. Dewey, Fragetta, former boxing manager and promoter who is undergoing treatment for a back injury at Rhoads general hospital, was more than pleased to find that one of the nurses recently assigned there was Lt. Adelaide Fragetta, his youngest sister. . . . The air transport command flyers, paced by Corp. Walter Little of Rome, Ga., and Staff Sgt. Ralph Mize of Cedarhurst, Ga., won the 1945 baseball championship of Trinidad. Little won 14 and lost 3 on the mound and Mize — no relation to Johnny — hit a cool 500. . . . That's Mize work if you can do it.

Merchants Lose and Win On Wednesday

Lose to SAAF Gliders 0-11; Win at Jeff City From Tweedies 10-6

The Sedalia Merchants split an Independence Day doubleheader by losing the afternoon game played at Liberty park to the SAAF Gliders by a score of 11 to 0 and winning a night game played in Jefferson City against the Tweedies by a score of 10 to 6.

The afternoon game found the Merchants with too tough a team for them and Lefty Hal Green got away to a bad start and had to be relieved in the fourth by Gus Shirley, another lefthander, who held the visitors easily during the remainder of the game but the locals could not hit Junior Smith, another lefthander, with and degree of success with runners in scoring position and he coasted through to an easy victory. Shirley aside from pitching nice relief ball also collected two hits and with Manager Nichols led the locals attack with two hits each. The Gliders hopped on Green's slants for nine runs in the first three innings, but some bad support was responsible for some of the runs as well as a couple of hits which were poorly played. Several regulars of the Merchants were unable to play due to having to work. The lineup for the Merchants in this game was Livengood 1b, Lobough 2b, Ellsworth ss, Morris 3b, Williams lf, Shirley cf-p, Nichols, rf-cf, Ray rf, Norman c, and Green p.

Score by innings:
Gliders.....225 200 000—11 15 0
Merchants.....000 000 000—0 3 5
Batteries: Gliders—Smith and Holmes; Sedalia—Green, Shirley and Norman.

Merchants Get Revenge
The night game at Jefferson City found the Merchants getting revenge for the 4 to 3 defeat suffered at Sedalia several weeks ago. The Merchants were away to a two run lead in the first inning when Morris doubled scoring Livengood and Ellsworth. They collected five runs in the fourth while Jefferson City added one in the fourth, fifth, sixth and three in the seventh to make the score 7 to 6 in favor of the Merchants. However in the eighth Bernie Watkins who was on the mound for the Merchants walked the first batter and Manager Nichols removed him and put in Joe Dunn a fast ball right hander who retired the next six batters in succession and to make the game safe the Merchants added three runs in the ninth.

Bernie Watkins started for the Merchants and pitched excellent ball until the seventh when he weakened, holding the Tweedies virtually helpless. When Dunn came in with a terrific fast ball it was all over as far as Jefferson City was concerned. The Merchants sparked in the field playing errorless ball and Shirley starred in the field in eight chances in center field. Ellsworth and Livengood led Sedalia's hitting with three safeties each.

Lineup for the Merchants was: Livengood 1b, Ellsworth 2b, Garrett ss, Morris 3b, Nichols and Williams lf, Shirley cf, Norman and Dunn rf, Moran c, Watkins and Dunn p.

Score by innings:
Merchants.....200 500 003—10 11 0
Jeff City.....000 111 300—6 8 1
Batteries: Sedalia — Watkins, Dunn and Moran; Tweedies—Schuller, Linke and Sitton.

In making this announcement today, Henry Ford II, executive vice-president of the company said production plans call for separation of assembly of Ford and Mercury cars throughout the nation and combining Mercury production with that of the company's Lincoln line. He added that sales of Lincoln and Mercury automobiles would be handled by an exclusive dealer organization in the post-war period.

The Ford company has been authorized to build approximately 40,000 passenger cars during the remainder of 1945.

Japan's Hours of Doom Strike in July

From now on, every time the hands of the clock move one minute forward nearly four tons of bombs will explode over Japan—over 224 tons every hour—5480 tons a day. That's the breakdown of the 2,000,000 tons annually that is promised by Gen. H. H. Arnold, Army Air Forces chief. Most of the assaults will be concentrated on five key cities, Tokyo, Nagoya, Yokohama, Kobe and Osaka, in the area indicated by huge bomb burst on map above.

Traffic Cases In Court

Police court was busy this morning when eight traffic bonds were ordered forfeited by Magistrate C. W. Bente when defendants failed to appear. There were three overtime parkers, whose one-dollar bonds were forfeited, two bonds of $5 each for careless driving, one $10 bond for reckless driving, two red light bonds, one for $2 and the other for $5, and one no city licenses case, of $1.

Leroy Dody, Route 4, charged with reckless driving failed to appear in court and he forfeited two bonds. The reckless driving bond of $10 was for driving on Ohio avenue in a manner that brought about his arrest, he then forfeited the $5 bond for running two red lights and making a left hand turn on Ohio avenue, being arrested late Wednesday night.

Roy Douglas forfeited the $2 bond for failure to stop at the red light signal at P. oadway and Engineer avenue.

Kenneth R. Strode, 618 South Barrett avenue, and George Scott, 601 East Ninth street, both arrested for careless driving forfeited the $5 bonds.

Overtime parkers were John Donlon, Jr., 720 West Fifth street, Donald Winebrenner, 1400 East Fourth street, and Mrs. S. Judd, Route 3.

No city license sticker offender was Fred Neidholdt, 1700 South Montgomery.

About
Pettis County's

MUSEUM

Ma Pettis said to Pa: "Wasn't it all you could do to keep still and not speak out and explain to those people who were standing in front of the Sedalia case a little while ago? When they saw us wax figures they began to talk about the Ma and Pa Pettis stories which appear occasionally in the museum's weekly column (in the Democrat-Capital) and are usually written by Miss Mary Helen Mayhew (217 South Monticau street). They were wondering how it was that we, who according to the imagination of our reporter are supposed to be the incarnations of the spirit of Pettis county, happen to be sitting here in the midst of souvenirs brought from old Mexico. They noted that we were not the Mexican type, but really looked the part of a typical old fashioned central Missouri couple with our snow white hair, yours cottony and mine silky, you with your neat black trousers and white tuck-bosomed shirt and I with my black figured lawn dress. They remarked that we were sitting here side by side, posed just as if we were not letting a single thing that happens in this courthouse museum escape our notice. That I look like I have stopped the knitting which I held in my lap and have leaned over on the arm of the chair to get a better view of something going on across the hall. And that you have stopped reading the newspaper which you held on your crossed knees and are peering over your rimmed glasses. As I say," Ma Pettis continued, "wasn't it all you could do to keep still and not speak out and tell them that Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Studer, loaned by the Missouri Pacific railroad to the U. S. Railway Mission, found us in a wax works in Mexico City and were inspired as it were, to bring us here where we seem so eminently to belong."

Has Visited Many Islands

Fred Yeager, well known football official from Sedalia—now with North American Aviation, arrived Wednesday afternoon for a two-day visit with Mrs. Yeager and their son Fred Jr., at 214 West Seventh street. Mr. Yeager came to Sedalia from Greenfield, S. C., where he was assigned on inspection duties for the aviation concern and leaves Friday for Dallas, Texas, to the Dallas army air field. Mr. Yeager recently returned from the South Pacific theatre of war where he spent several months as a representative of North American. It was while in this theatre of war he suffered a fracture of the knee when he made a "dive" for a fox hole on Morotai.

He also flew over Clark field, Philippine islands, when the B-25 bombers made their run over that field to "soften" it up prior to the U. S. invasion of Luzon. He has visited many of the islands where fighting was in progress with the Japs, and also spent some time in Australia.

Mr. Yeager expects an assignment to India and China in the near future with the aviation company.

Hit Japs Now From Near Bases

As Start Sweep Is Made Over Kyushu From Okinawa

MANILA, Friday, July 6.—(P)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today that elements of his air forces which participated in the Philippines battles now were operating directly against Japan from forward bases.

MacArthur's announcement did not otherwise identify these air forces now redeployed, or locate their bases.

(The U. S. Fifth and 13th Air Forces under Gen. George C. Kenney participated in the southwest Pacific and Philippines campaign and presumably are those meant by MacArthur.)

Operate From Okinawa

MANILA, Friday, June 6.—(P)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has flung his air forces against the Japanese homeland for the first time, operating from Okinawa, he disclosed today.

Thirty-six hours after they landed in Okinawa, fighters and bombers roared off on an unchallenged sweep over the southern Japanese island of Kyushu.

"This is just the start," declared Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Far East air forces. "We will continue to hammer Japan until she accepts unconditional surrender."

The raids were staged July 3. The first blows landed on the cities of Tojimbara, Byu, Izumi, Chiran and Omura.

Blow At Harbor

Speedy Mustangs darted down, strafing against moderate to heavy antiaircraft fire as the raiders swept the skies for two hours. They found only three enemy float planes and sank them all in Fukuoka harbor.

It was the first blow struck by MacArthur against the Japanese homeland in more than three and a half years of war.

Forty-Eight Mustangs of the Fifth air force's 38th Fighter group hit Fukuoka harbor, which is a major west coast shipping point from the empire to the Asiatic mainland.

The Mustang raid was led by Col. Edwin A. Doff, Eureka, Mo., who has been a member of the 38th fighter group since early October of 1944. The group is a part of Lt. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead's Fifth Air Force.

The veterans of the air campaign that strangled the enemy's communications in the South Seas thus joined the rising movement against the enemy's home islands—already rocked by giant superfortress raids and incessantly pounded by tactical planes from new won bases.

The announcement that Gen. George C. Kenney's fifth and 13th Air Forces had gone into action against Japan came soon after the war department in Washington disclosed the creation of a new and greater strategic air force to visit unparalleled destruction upon Nippon.

Report Traveling Three To A Seat

DENVER, July 5.—(P)—A trainload of 500 returnees from the European theater of war, en route from Boston to their homes in 15 chaircars equipped with two washrooms, arrived in Denver today, and the veterans crowded six deep before mirrors in the men's washroom at union station to shave and freshen up, many of them for the first time since Monday.

One sign chalked on the cars read: "So this is America!?!? Enemy PW's get pullman cars—we got cattle cars for 3,000 miles."

The men told newspaper reporters they had traveled three to a seat and that many slept in car vestibules and on floors each night.

Accepts The Resignation Of Federal Judge

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—President Truman today formally accepted the resignation of Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, Pa.

And almost simultaneously with the announcement, which had been informally reported Tuesday by Attorney General Clark, the house voted an additional $7,500 to the judiciary committee. This will be used to investigate the "official conduct" of Judges Johnson and Albert L. Watson of the middle district Pennsylvania court at Scranton.

Mobile X-Ray To Be At Fair

JEFFERSON CITY, July 5.—(P)—A mobile X-ray unit taking chest pictures on 70 mm film is ready to start a tuberculosis detection program in Pemiscot county, Dr. James Stewart, state health commissioner, announced today.

From there it will be taken to other counties and from Aug. 19-26 will be operated at the State Fair in Sedalia.

Truman Orders Navy to Seize Goodyear Co.

Rubber Workers Ordered Back to Jobs on Friday

By Larry Smith

AKRON, Ohio, July 5.—(P)—The navy seized the five strike-paralyzed plants of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company at 11:15 a. m. today, under executive order by President Truman and ordered 16,700 CIO-United Rubber Workers back to their jobs tomorrow.

Capt. H. K. Clark, USNR, took command of the sprawling rubber plants and moved swiftly to resume production of war-vital airplane, truck and other tires which had been halted completely during the shutdown which entered its 20th day today.

Captain Clark, in a statement given newsmen and read over all Akron radio stations, ordered the strikers to resume work on the regular Friday shifts or "become subject to all proper and legal sanctions and measures available."

Goodyear officials said the strike, caused by breakdown of negotiations between the firm and the union on 32 wage, hour and working condition provisions, had caused a production loss of 16,000 tires daily, along with thousands of other items used by the armed services.

Within 15 minutes after President Truman issued his seizure order in Washington, Captain Clark and a staff of about 20 men arrived at the main gate of the Goodyear plants to take over in the name of the government.

Picketers Cheer Navy Men
The navy men were cheered by pickets as they passed through the gate and into the office of Edward J. Thomas, president of Goodyear.

Thomas, shaking hands with Captain Clark, assured him: "We will cooperate 100 per cent."

During the stoppage, which Goodyear officials said cost the war effort some 320,000 plane and truck tires, the strikers had seven times spurned back-to-work orders issued by the WLB, had asked President Truman to not seize the plant, and had demanded a senate committee investigation of the merits of the strike.

But President Truman, finding the war effort would "be unduly impeded or delayed" by production interruptions, ordered the seizure and told the secretary of the Navy government possession should terminate "within 60 days after he determines that the productive efficiency of the plant xxx prevailing prior to the existing interruptions xxx has been restored."

Captain Clark, head of the plants emergency management in the office of the secretary of the navy, was the officer in charge in the seizure of the United Engineering company in San Francisco in April.

Following a short conference between Captain Clark and President Thomas, the naval staff began posting notices at all gates and on all buildings, ordering the striking employees back on the job on regular shifts Friday.

The Placards Said:
"This is to notify you that the plants and facilities of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in Akron are now in possession and being operated by the undersigned as officer in charge pursuant to executive order of the President of the United States."

"All plants and departments will be re-opened at the regular starting hour Friday morning, July 6. Shifts other than the first will start Friday, July 6 at the hours in effect prior to the strike."

"You are directed to report for work at your proper shift hour tomorrow, Friday, July 6. Failure to report will subject you to all proper and legal sanctions and measures available."

The notices were signed "Capt. H. K. Clark, USNR."

Tornado Kills Six

RISING CITY, Neb., July 5.—(P)—Six persons were killed and at least 12 critically injured by a tornado which swept a path five miles long and two wide north and west of Rising City last night. Three of the victims died in a Columbus, Neb., hospital early today and three were killed outright.

Meet Of Big Three Middle Of Month

Conference Is Expected To Be Held In Potsdam

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—The Big Three meeting in the Berlin area will be held some time within the next three weeks, President Truman told his news conference today.

He declined to be more specific. When a reporter asked if he expected to confer—in advance of the Berlin conference—with Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain, the President replied that he does not; that it is going to be a Big Three conference and all three (Truman, Churchill and Marshall Stalin) will be there.

The chief executive was also asked if he expected to see General Charles De Gaulle of France during his absence from the country. He replied he did not expect to see him this trip.

"That might indicate another trip," remarked a reporter. "Do you plan another soon?"

Smiling, Mr. Truman said he could not say now.

LONDON, July 5.—(P)—A published report said today that Prime Minister Churchill would meet Generalissimo Franco of Spain before the Big Three conference in Potsdam, but a foreign office spokesman cast doubt on the report.

The best guess was that President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Churchill would confer at Potsdam, a Berlin suburb, July 14 or 16. They will try to liquidate outstanding European problems.

The prime minister, tired from the election campaign, his wife and daughter are expected to take a holiday at the beautiful Chateau De Bordaberry on the French Basque coast just outside Hendaye on the Spanish border before the big three meeting. Bordeaux reports said telephone and telegraph wires were connecting the villa direct with London.

The foreign office commentator did not deny or confirm the report of a meeting with the Spanish chief of state, but expressed "the personal interpretation" that the story stemmed from the political campaign.

Italy One Topic
Unusually reliable diplomats said the big three would discuss the future of Italian colonies and the question of admitting Italy to the World Security League.

Belief was general in London that agreement on matters awaiting the attention of the "big three" would be speeded by solution of the Polish problem—an issue which British-American recognition of the new Warsaw provisional government will automatically eliminate from the Potsdam agenda.

This recognition is expected to be forthcoming within 36 hours. Outstanding among the questions which President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin are expected to discuss are Germany's economic future and the price she must pay for her aggressions.

Involved in these questions are the use which is to be made of Germany's skilled labor, likely demands to be made upon her natural resources such as coal, iron and wood, and the disposition of her undamaged industrial machinery.

Berlin Factories Taken Over
A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Daniel De Luce in Berlin said that a majority of the factories in the Berlin districts now being taken over by British and American troops were stripped of heavy machinery by the Russians four to eight weeks ago.

DeLuce said Allied nationals who have been through other German areas occupied by the Red army report that similar removal of industrial equipment is in progress there.

In addition to settling Germany's economic future it is believed here that the "big three" will attempt to reach general boundary agreements in preparation for an early European peace settlement. This would involve discussion of the territorial claims of Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, France and possibly Holland.

Control Of Big Plants To U. S. Army

HOESCHT, Germany, July 5.—(P)—In a sudden move today the American army seized complete control of the management, assets and plants of the vast I. G. Farbenindustrie in the United States zone of occupied Germany and set in motion machinery intended to wipe out for all time the German ability to wage war.

Acting under general order No. 2, issued by Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay as deputy military governor, armed American troops marched simultaneously into 24 Farben plants at 6 p. m. and assumed control of properties which had played a great part in building up and maintaining the German war machine.

The action was taken to smash I. G. Farbenindustrie's worldwide cartel system and practices and break up the industry's war making power, which the United States group control council considers a "major threat to the peace and security of the postwar world so long as such industries remain within the control of Germany."

Recognition For The Poles

U. S. And Britain Accord It To The Warsaw Set Up

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—The United States and Britain jointly recognized the reconstituted Warsaw government of Poland tonight, cutting adrift the London exile regime with which they have dealt throughout the war.

In both London and Washington, however, it was emphasized in the announcements that the setting up of the expanded Warsaw administration constituted only a "step" fulfillment of the Yalta Big Three agreements.

President Truman, announcing American acceptance of the Warsaw government, said it had "recognized" the Yalta agreement in full and thereby confirmed the Crimean plan for free elections.

The President said Arthur Bliss Lane has been named ambassador and "will proceed to Warsaw as soon as possible." The British announcement laid stress on "full agreement with the United States government" in recognizing the "Polish provisional government of national unity." It said an ambassador will be dispatched from London shortly.

Lane In Capital
Lane was appointed last September as ambassador to the London Polish government, but never went to London, apparently in expectation of such a shift as came today. He is in Washington. Previously he was ambassador to Colombia.

The Crimea agreement by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin called for broadening the base of the Moscow-sponsored Warsaw group, to take in other Democratic Polish elements, and for free elections to be held later. Diplomatic comment both here and in the British capital has laid emphasis on the elections, and the circumstances under which they are held, as the final important step in letting the Poles work out their own Democratic course.

Stanislaus Mikolajczyk, one-time leader of the London Polish government, has been included in the new Warsaw set-up as vice-premier. The new government was finally worked out after long negotiations which all but stalled over Soviet objections to taking in any representatives of the London group. Need Men And Combines GREAT BEND, Kas., July 5.—(P)—Additional men and combines were needed for the Kansas wheat harvest, E. H. Leker, in charge of the state farm labor office, said today.

Next of kin have been notified. The loss, announced in a communique, brought to 45 the number of U. S. submarines lost since the start of the war including four announced as sunk, two destroyed to prevent capture, and 39 overdue and presumed lost.

The vessel's skipper was Commander David R. Connole, who had been in submarine service since June, 1939. He had commanded the Trigger since February, 1945. He held the silver star medal.

Commander Connole was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Connole, Madison, Ill. His wife lives at Annapolis, Md.

The 1,525 ton submersible was built at the Mare Island, Calif., navy yard and commissioned January 20, 1942.

The Trigger won the presidential unit citation for outstanding performance in combat during her fifth, sixth, and seventh war patrols.

In the battle of Midway, she was a member of the task force of Vice Admiral Frank Jack Fletcher, senior task force commander.

That leaves the prison with a quota of 75 per cent of nothing for its butchering schedule this month and next.

"There's meat in the storage lockers, but we don't have enough points to use it," Whitecotton explained.

Transport in With 7,028 Men

NEW YORK, July 5.—(P)—The transport Robert Harrison, a day late because of fog, arrived today with 372 men for reassignment. She was one of three ships due today with a total of 7,028 troops. The others are the Marine Dragon, with 3,088 reassignment troops, and the George Washington with 2,541 casualties and 1,027 reassignment troops.

The men aboard the Harrison were members of five units—the First Ordnance company, the 3,444th Ordnance company, the Seventh General Dispensary company of the Medical Corps, the 311th Army Postal unit and the 68th Finance Disbursing section. The men were taken by buses to Camp Shanks.

On the Robert Harrison was Herman the German, an airdale owned by Capt. Henley E. Reed of King City, Mo., commanding officer of the 3,444th who got him as a pup near Munich.

Great Britain Holds Election

Outcome Will Not Be Known For Next Three Weeks

LONDON, July 5.—(P)—Great Britain chose a new government today to finish the war with Japan and to lay the foundations for the peace to come, but the result will not be known for three weeks.

The election was orderly and quiet, in sharp contrast to the rancor of one of the bitterest campaigns in decades.

The British press association said between 70 and 80 per cent of the registered electors were estimated to have cast ballots. On the basis of 30,000,000 eligible voters this would mean a total vote of between 21 and 24 million.

Voters decided whether their immediate future would be shaped by the free enterprise system advocated by Prime Minister Churchill and the conservatives, or by the labor party with its announced goal of a "socialist commonwealth of Great Britain."

The ballots will not be counted until July 26, after the service vote is returned from all the battlefronts. The results are expected to be announced about noon that day.

Watched By World
The world watched the election for an indication of whether Europe's postwar political pendulum would swing to the left or the right.

In one of the last speeches of the stormy campaign, Churchill asserted that defeat of his conservative "caretaker" government would cast many European countries into communism.

"If there should be a landslide to the left many countries on the continent would slide, not into decent socialism, but into the violence of communism," he said. "If we go down, all the ninepins of Europe will fall."

Labor party leader Clement Attlee and other laborites have demanded the nationalization of coal mining, power, inland transport and the iron and steel industries of Britain.

"Labor will organize the economic life of the country in order to insure good homes, food, clothing, social security, employment, leisure, freedom and the amenities of life for everybody," Attlee said in a final speech.

"This has never been done under the system of 'private interests first' which the conservatives support," he said.

Churchill himself, like thousands of others, was unable to vote because his name was left off the register. The mixup and confusion resulted from enemy bombing and the shifting of wartime populations.

Sub Trigger Believed Lost

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—The submarine Trigger, with its wartime complement of from 80 to 85 officers and men, is overdue from patrol and presumed lost, the navy announced today.

Next of kin have been notified. The loss, announced in a communique, brought to 45 the number of U. S. submarines lost since the start of the war including four announced as sunk, two destroyed to prevent capture, and 39 overdue and presumed lost.

Morgenthau Resigns As Treasury Head

Successor Be Named After The Big Three Meet

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of Secretary of the treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

The President said he would name Morgenthau's successor upon his return from the big three meeting near Berlin which he said would take place in about three weeks.

Names which have figured in speculation over a new treasury chief include Director of War Mobilization Fred Vinson, John W. Snyder, the new Federal Loan Administrator, Senator George (D-Ga.), veteran chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Walter J. Cummings of Chicago, board chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company.

The President made it clear to his weekly news conference that he has in mind keeping Harold L. Ickes as Interior Secretary for some months at least. He said Ickes will be sent to London soon to help renegotiate an Anglo-American oil agreement.

The President read a letter from Morgenthau offering his resignation, together with his reply expressing gratitude for Morgenthau's service during more than 12 years in government since 1934, as a cabinet member.

Successor In Mind
The President told reporters he had a successor in mind but that he would not disclose his name now.

Mr. Truman also said Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York has been given presidential permission to go to France, but said that the New Yorker was going for his own welfare and benefit and not for the government. He will not go in uniform.

A reporter asked if Mr. Truman planned later to make Morgenthau American representative on the International Bank to be created under the Bretton Woods agreement, but the President said he was not ready to answer that at this time.

He said he did not plan to confer with Prime Minister Churchill elsewhere before going to the Big Three meeting in Germany. It will be a Big Three meeting, he said, and three will be there.

He would not say the date of the Big Three meeting but declared it would be sometime during the next three weeks.

At the same news conference, Mr. Truman announced the appointments of Edward C. Moran, to be assistant secretary of labor and Jesse Donaldson to be first assistant postmaster general.

Praising Morgenthau's tax program, the chief executive said he had reasons to be proud of his work in that capacity as well as in the sale of war bonds and that he could "feel a great sense of accomplishment."

Asked what action might be taken in congress with reference to the Bretton Woods agreements, Mr. Truman replied that was a matter for the leaders on Capitol Hill to answer. However, he said he thought there would be no delay in enacting international economic and monetary legislation after the United Nations peace charter is ratified by the senate.

Under questioning, the President said Morgenthau simply wanted to quit.

Sugar Certificates Held up Few Days

W. M. Ilgenfritz, acting chairman of the Pettis county ration board, stated Thursday those who have applications for canning sugar on file and who have not received their certificates, will do so within a few days.

Mailing of the certificates has been halted until the next canning sugar quota is received. Mr. Ilgenfritz has been told by the district office that it will be within the next few days. Each applicant is permitted to purchase five pounds of canning sugar.

County Court Making Plans For New Jail

Will Pay for it Out of Surplus; No Bond Issue

Pettis county in the near future will have a new county jail, but it will be built on installments—and without a bond election. This was made known by the county court when they announced J. P. Schwartz was drafting plans for the proposed jail to replace the antique jail at 220 South Lamine avenue.

Mr. Schwartz was first employed by the Pettis County court to draw plans for a building to adjoin the present jail, to be used as women's quarters and quarters for juveniles. However, the cost of this addition, and the space it gave did not meet with the approval of the court, Judge J. V. Kesterson, Judge J. L. McCurdy, and Judge Ed. Callis.

The three judges conferred further with the architect and decided, with a small amount more money the entire jail part of the building could be reconstructed to better serve the county. Hence plans are now being drafted by Mr. Schwartz.

Separate Quarters
Judge Kesterson, presiding judge, in telling of the planned improvement said it is being so drafted that there will be separate quarters for women prisoners, men prisoners, juveniles who must be held and for the insane patients. This jail proper will be erected first and so arranged that later on the living quarters for the jailer can be added.

The jail building will connect with the present living quarters of the jailer which are facing Lamine avenue. The reason for planning the jail and living quarters on "installments" is so the money can be taken from the surplus county funds, and at the same time not "dig too deeply" to affect the surplus, leaving a goodly balance in the county treasury in case of an emergency.

"We feel," Kesterson said, "a bond election would cost $4,000, the county has a good surplus and with not holding an election this money would be a big help in starting the jail, and at the same time not put a heavy drain on it. The jail proper can be built for around $20,000 and we can use part of the present jail equipment, and later when equipment is made available we can replace that which is obsolete."

Interior Can Wait
"As to the new equipment, the interior can wait until conditions are more normal. What we are interested in now is to get the main building up, make it more sanitary than the present set-up, and separate the various departments," he said.

The court also said as soon as the architect plans are approved by the court, bids for construction will be asked.

It is not contemplated to complete the entire building this year, but the main jail part is expected to be well underway this fall and may be completed by the first of the year. The living quarters will be built later on, possibly waiting until the war is over and conditions become more normal, it was indicated.

Justice Owen J. Roberts Resigns
WASHINGTON, July 5.—(P)—President Truman today announced the resignation of Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts.

The President told his news conference he has no successor in mind.

Justice Roberts, who went on the supreme court in 1930, reached the retirement age of 70 last month. He gave that as his reason for resigning in the letter he wrote Mr. Truman.

Roberts conferred briefly with the President earlier in the day but declined at that time to tell reporters the purpose of his visit.

Justice Roberts' letter of resignation was dated from his home at Chester Springs, Pa. It asked that it take effect at the end of this month.

His resignation leaves Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone as the only judge on the supreme court whose service pre-dates the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Dr. Howard, former professor of Eastern European history at Oklahoma, Missouri, and California universities is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Howard of Excelsior Springs, Mo., and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brubaker, Sedalia, Mo.

He is a graduate of William Jewell college, Liberty, where he plans to address a convocation.

Sgt. Lynn Hill Tells of War Experiences

But he Prefers Not to Have to Have Them Again

Mrs. L. E. Hill of Houstonia, recently received a letter from her son, Staff Sgt. Lynn C. Hill, recounting experiences and observations since leaving the states in 1943.

Sgt. Hill, 29, who was engaged in farming before he entered army service July 13, 1942, served with an engineering battalion in the First army and just a few days before the end of the conflict in Europe was transferred to the 9th army. Two sisters residing here are Mrs. Lucille Shy, 1002½ South Grand avenue and Mrs. Raymond Neitzert, rural route 4.

His letter, which reveals the course of the Allied western campaign, follows:

"Germany, May 25, 1945. "Dear Mother: This is something of a special letter, since censorship is now lifted. It will be the first letter I have sealed since leaving Camp Pickett, Virginia, in October, 1943.

"After leaving Camp Pickett, we went to Camp Miles Standish in Massachusetts, which was a marshalling or staging area, or in short a preparation area for overseas shipment. We left there on a train for Halifax, Canada, from where we sailed November 2, 1943. We landed in Liverpool, England, on the ninth and went immediately to Swansea, Wales. We made the crossing in a former British luxury liner, the Mauritonia, which was next in size to the Queen Mary, but the food wasn't too good.

Sailed From England "We sailed from England June 1, 1944, out of Weymouth on an American Liberty ship until June 6. The food on this ship was excellent. We went over the side about 7 or 7:30 a. m. to a landing craft tank and were supposed to land at about that time, but as lots of people know now, there were many reverses that day.

"We stayed aboard the LCT all that day and landed in the late afternoon. From then until about the 8th or 9th, there was very little time for sleeping or eating. After that, it wasn't bad. We worked on the beach twelve hours a day for thirty days and then our residue or overstrength came in and we had an 8-hour day. We saw lots of fireworks on that beach, and made ourselves quite a record in tonnage of equipment unloaded. I'll never forget how they pulled up in those large LSTs and unloaded those armored outfits. I've had complete charge more times than one, when I had a strip of beach about 700 yards long and had as many as 16 of those LSTs at once.

"The water got rough in September and we moved to Arromanches, where the British had their famous floating docks and port. It was really an accomplishment. We then went to Cherbourg, where we operated a portion of that port for about twenty days.

"From there we went to Belgium and landed just outside Leige on Christmas day. Here we lived in a chateau and had buzz bombs for company. However, the nearest hit was about 500 yards. Then we moved to within two miles of Germany, near Aachen and then to Duren about two days after the Roer river was crossed. Duren and Aachen are the two most badly damaged cities in Germany. However St. Lo in France was worse than either of these.

"We crossed the Rhine on April 1 and again got ahead of the big artillery and landed at Ronshall. We were then transferred to the Ninth army and on May 2 we crossed the Elbe just south of Hamburg. Then all of a sudden, all German resistance stopped in that section and they tried to get west of the Elbe, thinking the Russians were going to massacre all of them and us too. I never expect to see a whole army in headlong flight again and on top of it, all the civilian population was with them.

"Anyway, the Russians and Yanks decided on an international boundary and then everything stopped. About May 5th, I was trying to clear a road of wrecked vehicles and fill up the craters. About dark, I took a jeep to check the route ahead of us and got lost and ran into this international boundary at Domitz. Needless to say I didn't get any further. But anyway I found the right road and got it cleared.

Had a Rest "May 13 we moved to Seesen and had a rest. We are now at Conquer airport, just north of Braunschweig doing a little work in preparation for units that are going to the USA.

"We were amphibious engineers on the beach and were army engineers after that, which is maintenance work on roads, etc. After that we were corps engineers, building bridges, etc. It has been quite an experience, but Lord, please don't make me have to see all this again.

"Lots of love, Lynn."

William Burns, On Ship Lost, October, 1944

Was Prisoner Of Japanese, Taken In Manila Bay

Mrs. Mary Burns, 1720 South Park avenue, has received word from the Navy department that her son, William Burns, chief boatswain's mate, U. S. N., who was taken prisoner by the Japanese in Manila Bay, Philippine Islands, on May 12, 1942, lost his life on October 24, 1944, when a prisoner of war ship was sunk off the coast of China.

Burns, who was born May 22, 1907, at Spring Fork, son of the late Oliver Burns and Mary Burns, enlisted in the U. S. navy October 23, 1925. Surviving him besides his mother are two brothers, Elmer and Alfred Burns of Sedalia, a half-sister, Mrs. Albert E. Lueck of Sedalia, and a half brother, Edward Ray.

The letter from H. B. Atkinson, Commander, U. S. N. R. officer in charge of the casualty section, follows in part:

Message Received "Dear Mrs. Burns: Your son, William Burns, Chief Boatswain's Mate, United States Navy, has been carried on the official records of the Navy department as a prisoner of war.

"A full review of all evidence pertaining to the status of your son has been made. It has been ascertained that on 11 October 1944, your son who had been held captive by the Japanese in the Bilibid Prisoner of War Camp, Philippine Islands, was placed on board a Japanese freighter, apparently enroute to Japan.

"The ship was anchored in the cove of an island about 200 to 300 miles from Manila for about six days before it returned to Manila on 20 October 1944 and from there, in a convoy of Japanese ships, proceeded in a general northward direction. On 24 October 1944, this ship, which bore no mark to indicate it was carrying prisoners of war, was torpedoed and sunk off Shoonan, Eastern coast of China. Records maintained by the Japanese authorities in the Philippine Islands have come into the possession of the United States Naval personnel and these records reveal that your son did not survive the sinking. Eight months have elapsed since the date of the disaster, during which time no further word has been received.

Died October 24 "It has therefore been determined that your son died on 24 October 1944 as a result of the sinking. Accordingly his status has been changed on the records of this Bureau from prisoner of war to deceased.

"The Navy department shares in your loss and extends sincere sympathy to you in your sorrow. It is hoped that you may find comfort in the knowledge that your son gave his life for his country, upholding the highest traditions of the Navy."

The last card, a form correspondence, that Mrs. Burns received from her son was dated May 6, 1944, and was the only one of several cards that was dated. They were sent from Prison camp No. 1 in the Philippines.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Burns had been on active sea duty for a number of years prior to the war, making cruises to many points of the world.

Petty Officer Back to Ship

Howard L. May, petty officer of the navy, has returned to New York City and his ship after a leave spent with his wife, who has been ill the past two months, and his son, Harvey LeRoy, of 1422 East Broadway.

When May entered service in 1943, he was foreman at the Taystee Bread bakery here. After receiving training at Camp Benning, Farragut, Idaho, he was sent to a bakers' school in Seattle, Wash., at Bremerton Navy Yard. In June, 1944, he was assigned to sea duty and for the past year has served overseas, his trips taking him completely around the world and across the equator seven times, which entitles him to membership in the Official Order of Shellbacks.

May alternates his time between the modern bakery aboard ship, where there are six electric ovens, and the bread room, where he mixes dough in two automatic dough mixers.

His gun station is on a 1.5 m. gun.

Three Ribbon Bars

The petty officer wears three campaign ribbon bars representing the American area, the European-African-Middle Eastern and the Asiatic-Pacific areas.

Among souvenirs he has brought home are a German officers' fleeceline, zippered flying boots and helmet, daggers from India and France, jewelry from New Hebrides, New Caledonia and Fiji islands, silk underwear and pajamas from Australia, a large wall hanging with the Taj Mahal worked in relief outline stitches in silver and gold thread, small jewels and a large amount of coins and paper money.

Shull has waived his preliminary hearing and was bound over to the action of the criminal court. He indicated he desired to appear in court as soon as possible to answer to the charge in the higher court.

Sheriff Goetz was accompanied by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman on the trip which took them to Boys Town, Nebraska and then to the State of Nevada.

Harmonicas Big Help In Blowing Out West Wall

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP)—TNT helped, but the harmonicas must have been a factor too, in blowing the Nazis out of the west wall.

To keep G. I. happy and occupied in spare time (nothing was said about any contribution to the war of nerves), the army's special services division procured during the current fiscal year almost 1,000,000 musical instruments, about half of them mouth organs.

The sounds the kid next door makes on just one instrument give an infinitesimal idea.

Most of the million instruments went overseas. Now the Japanese are up against the same thing, with more slated for the Pacific theater this year.

Telling Effect "Blow By Blow"

Giving a "blow by blow" account, so to speak, of this phase of its activities, the war department disclosed to the house appropriations committee that the most popular of all the instruments furnished the doughboys was the harmonica—446,359 of them.

just now and I have been too busy to go up in the hills Jap hunting. Between the two of us, I don't intend to either. If there is something else you want within reason, of course, let me know and I can probably finance it.

"Tom, I am enclosing a couple of the propaganda leaflets we have been dropping on the Japs. They tell the Japanese people the truth about the war and may make them give up a little sooner, I hope.

"How do you like your bicycle by now. You had better take good care of it or you will be walking. It's got to last you a couple of years.

"Be good and write soon, "As always, "Pat."

State Highway Men Confer With Citizens

Study Plans For Rerouting Highway 65 and County Road

A proposed plan for re-routing highway 65, through Sedalia, is again up for discussion. Monday Mayor A. H. Wilks, met with C. W. Brown, chief engineer of the highway department. They talked over a postwar project for the proposition. Re-routing of 65 highway has been a subject for discussion for more than ten years, but nothing definite had been decided by the Missouri State highway department.

Accompanying Mr. Brown from the highway department were, H. M. Brush, district engineer, and G. A. Barth, assistant engineer, from District No. 4, of which Sedalia is a part, whose headquarters are in Kansas City, also P. H. Daniels, engineer of survey and plans. They all met with Mayor Wilks, city engineer James I. Collins, and T. H. Yount.

Mayor Wilks explained Mr. Yount participated in this meeting because he had been in the preliminary meeting on the proposed re-routing, and because of his contacts previously made with the highway department, when he was a city alderman.

Went Over Route The Mayor and Mr. Brown talked over the federal and state aid for municipalities, regarding federal highways which enter such municipalities. The group also made a tour of some of the territory covered in the re-routing.

It was explained the proposed "by-pass" route would join up with Highway 65 at Highway 50, known as the intersection of Broadway and Limit avenue. The route goes directly north over Lim it avenue, to Main street. The rest of the route has several different connections, and these routings are to be given a survey by the state highway department before any definite decision is made.

Mayor Wilks made it plain the meeting Monday was only for a discussion, and to look over the territory and no definite decision had been made. He did indicate that if such a re-routing was decided upon, it would probably be No. 1 on Sedalia post-war projects, as to highways.

Meeting With County Men Monday afternoon Mr. Brown with W. J. Shulten, of the state highway department, Jefferson City, met with the Pettis County road commission, members of the Pettis county court, and a delegation of farmers from the southern part of the county to discuss a proposed road project in the south part of Pettis county.

One group is asking the state highway department to maintain the present Green Ridge road, and add improvements, while another delegation desires the state to build an east-west road connecting on the present road and make it a farm-to-market road.

Mr. Brown explained a decision on this road should be made by the county commission and the county court, then their recommendations submitted to the state highway commission for either approval or rejection. This recommendation must come from the county commission, Mr. Brown explained to make it in accordance with the state law. "Petitions", Mr. Brown said, "have little bearing on the state commission, inasmuch as they do not conform with state law.

No decision was made Monday afternoon by the county commissioners regarding the proposed farm-to-market road from Sedalia to Green Ridge.

Army Doctor Home on Leave

Captain Charles G. Stauffacher, who is a patient at the Winter General hospital, Topeka, Kansas, arrived home Sunday night on a sick leave and is at his home 820 South Osage, with his wife and two children, Sherry and Nickole. Captain Stauffacher saw his daughter Nichole, for the first time several weeks ago, shortly after his arrival at the hospital in Topeka, from the Pacific theatre of war where he was injured the first part of April. Capt. Stauffacher was on Leyte when his daughter was born, February 5, 1945.

He served in the Pacific for ten months and participated in five major invasions with the 20th Armor Group as the medical officer. In his work as an officer in the medical corps he has been cited several times.

It was during the invasion of Okinawa that Captain Stauffacher jumped from one of the large amphibian armored units, and fractured his left leg in the knee and the bone below the knee in several places. He was taken out on a hospital ship and to Saipan, and from there flown to Hawaii, thence to California and from there to the Winter General hospital.

He expects to be in Sedalia with his family thirty days before returning to Topeka.

Archie Leach of Farmington, Ill., is here to spend the summer with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leach, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Murray went to Springfield recently to visit relatives and look after business.

Council Votes To Secure A Dump Ground

Licenses And Other Business Up On Monday Night

The City Council, meeting in regular session Monday night, voted unanimously to enter into a contract with George Weigand, to lease a plot of ground, approximately seven acres, in the northwest part of the city, sometimes known as the old brewery site, for use as a dumping ground. The city is to pay $100 per year rent, with the privilege of renewing the lease at the expiration of a year.

The resignation of William Fewell, special investigator, was accepted, effective July 2. Fewell stated in his written resignation he wanted to enter into other employment.

Gil E. Sublett, first ward alderman, reported the city had agreed to furnish four firemen and a fire chief to the state, to serve on the fair grounds during the state fair, August 19 to 25. He also reported that of three bids for fire hose that of the Central Fire Hose Company of St. Louis was the lowest and he was given the approval of the council to make a purchase from that company.

The Stevens Coal and Ice Company, 619 East Fifth street, was granted a renewal of the license to sell beer at wholesale; Mrs. Viola Miller's license was renewed to sell 3.2 beer at 307 West Pettis street; W. B. Rissler's license, to sell liquor by the drink at 211 South Ohio avenue was renewed, as was that of Pete Drenas, to sell 3.2 beer at 412½ South Osage avenue. An application filed by Clarence Fair, to sell 3.2 beer at Sixteenth street and Grand avenue was held over one week because the alderman had not had an opportunity to make an investigation, and they understood Mr. Fair was not going to open his place of business for two weeks anyway.

An ordinance was read for the first time creating a district, 101, for the resurfacing of Harrison avenue, from Third street to Broadway.

John Taylor, third ward alderman, reported insurance adjusters were in Sedalia Monday, investigating the loss by fire at the incinerator. He stated they wanted to have it repaired and in working condition as soon as possible.

Cecil A. Smith, Hale Clark, Robert Knox and "Tige" Clark, members of the police force, were allowed the cost of their uniforms, in-as-much as the Council had previously bought uniforms for all other police officers last year. The mayor submitted the name of John F. Taylor as weighmaster, to succeed the former weighmaster, who had resigned. The name was voted down four to three, Sublett, Smethers, Knox and Taylor voting no; Middleton, Keenan and Eickhoff voting yes. Mr. Taylor has been holding the job temporarily.

D. S. Lamm, city counselor, reported that he had been receiving correspondence about an alleged nuisance, an open cellar, at Sixth street and New York avenue. He was instructed to start court proceedings against the property owner if the purported nuisance is not abated.

Mrs. A. M. Yokley, 1012 East Twentieth street, asked for relief from a ditch which runs across her property, causing damage. Roy Bryson, who lives across the street from her, was also present and supported her contention.

Six Flaws In Charter, Is Contention

They Should Be Corrected Before Ratification, Senator Declares

WASHINGTON, July 3 (P)—In one of the first open Senate breaks on the United Nations charter, Senator Bushfield (R-SD) declared today the document contains at least six flaws. These should be corrected, he told his colleagues, before the charter is ratified. Although the first-term westerner asserted some of the provisions must be changed "for our national safety," he announced he would support the treaty because he could not face his soldier son "if I fail to do what I can to stop the senseless, maniacal slaughter and planned murder of my fellow men."

In a Senate speech, Bushfield listed these as "the jurisdictional faults in the new treaty":

1. "It delegates power which we have no authority to delegate to the security council to declare war."
2. "It places our sovereignty in the hands of foreigners because we have only one vote out of a necessary total of seven. This power must be referred to Congress in each case as it arises."
3. "It seeks by implication to delegate power to the American member of the Security Council to vote us into war without reference to Congress. This power must be strictly defined and limited by statute to congressional approval in each case as it arises."
4. "It grants to the Security Council power to regulate the size and kind of our armaments for national defense. No power on earth should dictate our defense, except the Congress."
5. "It destroys the Monroe Doctrine, which is the only fixed foreign policy America has ever had and leaves that foreign policy to a council of foreign nations."
6. "It scuttles the Pan American Union which we have spent fifty years in building among our American neighbors and makes it subject to the approval of European and Asiatic nations."

Bushfield said all the objections "can be corrected easily by the Senate," without harm to the treaty.

Most Senators Favorable
Senator Green (D-RI) said today there is more than a faint hope in the minds of some senators that the United Nations charter will be ratified unanimously.

Green is a member of the foreign relations committee which opens hearings next Monday on "the history-making pact to preserve peace. He recalled to a reporter that he worked for the League of Nations 25 years ago, appearing at Senate hearings then as a private citizen.

"There is a different atmosphere now because the people are for it," he asserted. "Events have demonstrated that we can't live alone."

An Associated Press poll already has shown more than the necessary two-thirds majority ready to vote for the charter. No senator interviewed has come out against it.

Sedalian Member of Veteran Unit Returns to the States

15TH AAF IN ITALY—After a group will experience in the Pacific theater.

238 Missions
The group has flown 238 combat missions since entering the Mediterranean theatre of operations, having bombed such vital targets as Vienna, Austria; Wiener Neustadt, Austria; Munich, Germany; Ploesti, Rumania; coastal fortifications in southern France before D-day; as well as numerous other pin-point bombing on enemy troop concentrations in northern Italy.

In all, the group bombed over 126 different targets, dropping nearly 15,000 tons of bombs. Gunners destroyed 130 enemy airplanes, probably destroyed 53 and damaged 65 others.

The group has been authorized six battle participation stars and was awarded the war department Distinguished Unit Citation for its "outstanding performance of duty in bombing aircraft factories at Wiener Neustadt, Austria, in May. The group completed operations in the ETO with a perfect (700 per cent within 1,000 feet) bombing assault on Tarvisio Motor Transport depot in northern Italy, which ground and air men of the

Sgt. G. E. White Visits Atrocities Camp

In a letter written at Passau, Germany, May 26, Sgt. Garland Elmo White tells of some of his experiences and observations of the European war.

Parts of the letter, sent to The Sedalia Democrat-Capital by his grandmother, Mrs. W. A. McFarland of Windsor, follow:

"Dear Folks,
"Had to go on a truck run hauling refugees. Drove a big truck about 500 miles round trip yesterday. Didn't get in until after midnight."

"Sure am glad the war is over, but don't guess I'll be home for a while. Don't have quite enough points. I have five campaign stars on my ETO ribbon, also the bronze Indian Arrowhead for the Normandy invasion. We are the only division to get five campaign stars. We fought in the First army in Normandy, then spearheaded for the Third from Normandy until the war was over—and then had to fight a few more days for good measure.

Saw Atrocities
"Do they ever put anything in the papers about the German concentration camps? They could not print half enough about them. I saw one that had over a thousand people that had shot—stacked up in piles to burn in furnaces. Saw a train that our planes had knocked out—it had 22 carloads of dead civilians the Germans had killed. Our soldiers that were captured were not much better off. They didn't kill them—just starved them to death. I saw lots of boys that were so starved they could not even walk."

"I only wish I could have knocked off more krauts than I did, and I might say I got quite a few. I accounted for a little more than 20 with a rifle or trench knife and by directing artillery. For one of the Silver Stars they put me in for—I and another boy were about 800 yards out in front of the infantry. These krauts started a big counterattack. We knocked off between 400 and 500 krauts and knocked out their tanks in one night."

"Since I left the States, I was in Iceland about two weeks, then Wales, England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Luxembourg, Germany and Austria."

Germans Worse Than Japs

"I've been reading in the Stars and Stripes about the people there taking the American Japs' names. Also about the people trying to keep the Japs out of the Valley. I saw that in the Wood River paper. Well—I have this to say: when they had some Americans surrounded down by Nancy, France the Jap 402nd Battalion of the Infantry was the only outfit that fought their way in and relieved them. They say all the Japs are loyal to Japan. What do they think the Germans are? The Japs couldn't do any more killing than the Germans."

"I was in a town in France—Etampes, I think—where some Germans shot three little kids, two girls and a boy, because the Frenchmen would not help fight us. They had been dead about ten minutes when we got there and were still lying out in the street. About two hours later, we got the German officer that killed them. Guess I don't have to tell you what happened to him!"

"If all my citations come through, I will have enough points to come home."

"Write often and tell everyone hello for me."

"Love,
"Elmo."

Sedalian With Combat Patrol On Sortie Into Enemy Lines

WITH 24TH INFANTRY (VICTORY) DIVISION ON MINDANAO—

Corporal Kenneth H. Neill, 1205 South Montgomery avenue, Sedalia, was a member of a twenty-five man combat patrol which made a four day sortie deep into Jap territory, had one instantaneous brush with the Nips and escaped unscathed.

The cavalrymen, driving seven miles in vehicles up a deep rutted road, cut their way into the intricate mesh of the jungle when the road reached an impasse.

The intense heat coupled with muscle binding hill climbing, razor edged grass and dense undergrowth, made the mission one of the most exhausting ever assigned to any unit of this Victory division. Constantly avoiding ambushes by the Japs, in imminent danger of being surrounded and wiped out, the patrol nevertheless went on to accomplish its mission. Ravines, three hundred feet deep, barred their way at intervals so that progress was measured more vertically than horizontally. The men had to scramble down the sides of these gorges, lower the equipment and arms by ropes and plunge into the back breaking ascent on the other side.

Meet Six Japs
Six Japs were encountered soon after the patrol left the main road. They were fired at, two were wounded and scurried like house rats into the wilderness, leaving their cooking food and equipment in wild abandonment.

One man was evacuated when he sagged in complete exhaustion. Water was dredged from rain water reservoirs near abandoned Nip houses. K rations were the sole bill of fare for four long, hazardous days. It rained every night, so that the men were constantly drenched by rain at night and sweat by day.

A dozen Jap patrols were sighted but the alert cavalrymen eluded them easily.

Upon returning to the troop area they were commended by Major General R. B. Woodruff, commanding general of this fighting 24th division for the acquisition of valuable information, their vigilant sojourn in enemy territory, their steadfastness in carrying out their mission and the diligent performance of duty.

Nearing the Pearl Harbor entrance channel, she avoided Jap planes' attempts to sink her and block the channel by running aground in shallow water.

She supported troop landing operations at Attu, participated in the Normandy invasion and the invasion of southern France and after refitting in New York returned to the Pacific where her guns covered the operations against Iwo Jima.

She is now older than many of her crew. Her keel was laid down November 4, 1912, in the Fore River Shipyard, Quincy, Mass., and she was commissioned at the Charlestown Navy Yard March 12, 1916.

Court Action on Machinery Is Preparatory to Post-War Plan

"The Pettis County court is preparing for post-war improvements," Judge J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge of the county court, said Tuesday in discussing the court's action in authorizing him to sign an order with the War Production Board for a permit to purchase road machinery when needed.

Judge Kesterson explained the order is not for immediate purchase of road machinery but to secure a priority permit which will enable the county to obtain the equipment when the court feels that it is needed. He also explained the county engineer, Fritz Greissen at the present time is unable to obtain help to maintain and operate the machinery the county has on hand at the present time.

"As a matter of fact the county engineer at the present time has only two employees," Judge Kesterson explained, "and the county court would like to see a much larger employment of help under the engineer for the building and improvement of the county roads."

Preparedness Action
Judge Kesterson also stated, "The county court is opposed to investing thousands of dollars in equipment when we are unable to employ men to use the equipment now on hand. But we want to be prepared in case the war ends suddenly and the boys begin to return home, so we can take care of those who desire employment in this type of work. Therefore the court has decided to obtain this permit so we will not be held up in obtaining machinery if and when it is needed."

The permit, which is being sought, gives the court the right to purchase the machinery from any company they desire to deal with, instead of being such it binds the court to purchasing from any specified machinery company.

Resignation Of Arnold Announced

Wants to Return To Private Law Practice

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(AP)—The White House today announced the resignation of Justice Thurgood Marshall of the United States Court of Appeals in Washington, effective July 10.

Arnold formerly headed the anti-trust divisions of the Justice Department.

At the same time the White House announced the resignation of E. Eugene Casey, long-time executive assistant to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Casey, a lieutenant commander in the navy, is now on duty in the Pacific.

Justice Arnold said in his letter of resignation that he wants to return to private law practice "to further the cause which is my chief interest in the department of justice."

"I believe that economic forces are moving toward freedom of business opportunity and a truly competitive economy in the post-war world," he said. "Industrial invention and a new age of transportation have created industrial opportunities for all sections of this country which never existed before."

Loss To The Bench
"Full production after the war, and the elasticity of our economy, depend on the release of new and independent initiative in industry. This, I think, must be the direction of a successful liberal movement in America."

The letter was dated July 3. In accepting Arnold's resignation, "regretfully," Mr. Truman said:

"I consider this a great loss to the bench."
In accepting Casey's resignation, President Truman expressed appreciation over the former's government service.

(Justice Arnold's wife is the former Miss Frances Longan, former Sedalia, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. George F. Longan.)

Recognition For The Poles

Moscow accused of subversive activities behind the Red Army lines, further complicated the negotiations.

Diplomats here did not expect any formal withdrawal of recognition from the London Poles. Rather the organization was expected here to be treated as if it had simply ceased to exist diplomatically. Whatever happens in that direction, there probably will be arguments over disposition of Polish assets claimed by both regimes.

Polish troops, who have fought under British command in Europe, and whose loyalty the London Poles still claim, constitute another problem.

The London group is represented by Jan Ciechanowski, who has been accepted as ambassador. No immediate plans were announced with regard to him.

"The establishment of this government is an important and positive step in fulfilling the decisions regarding Poland reached at Yalta and signed on February 11, 1945," said a statement by the President which was issued at the White House.

Find School Teacher Semi-Conscious
BOSTON, July 5.—(AP)—George Dawson, 47, a high school teacher from Manassas, Long Island, N. Y., was found battered and semi-conscious in his hotel room yesterday and police were seeking two men wearing sailors' uniforms for questioning.

Police Captain Fraic Tiernan said descriptions of the attackers were similar to those of a pair sought in the Turkish bath slaying here last week of Chase MacArthur, former superintendent of schools in Foxboro, Mass. Two men in navy uniforms accompanied MacArthur to the bath.

Inspection of Lockers by OPA Begins

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—(AP)—Claude Murray, Poplar Bluff health officer, and Chief of Police William Sims today denied any intent to violate a federal court order in refusing OPA agents permission to inspect frozen food lockers without health certificates.

The two officers, through City Attorney Robert Hyde, told Federal Judge Ruben Hulen they were upholding a Poplar Bluff city ordinance which requires food handlers to obtain health cards.

Judge Hulen ordered the case set for hearing July 12.

Geo. L. Robertson, chief OPA enforcement officer for the St. Louis area, said agents will begin immediate inspection of public frozen-food lockers throughout 66 eastern Missouri counties.

The announcement followed an inspection of the Poplar Bluff food locker which started the legal skirmish in federal court.

Refused to Permit Inspection
Murray and Sims last week refused to permit OPA inspectors to enter the food locker without food handlers' health cards required by city ordinance. They later ignored a federal court order granted the OPA which directed locker proprietors to permit the inspection to continue.

Murray said the inspectors entered the plant yesterday while he was absent.

Murray and Sims appeared in court today on funds raised by voluntary contributions to a campaign begun by the Poplar Bluff American-Republic.

The OPA said their locker inspections will include Jefferson City, Hannibal, New Madrid, Sikeston, Kirksville, Malden, Charleston, Carruthersville, Kennett and Cape Girardeau.

Youth Admits Taking Auto
A seventeen years old boy from Taft, Calif., was arrested about 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning by State Trooper Pete Stohr, just north of the Cole Camp junction of highway 65, in a 1941 Oldsmobile sedan, reported stolen in Texas.

The boy ran from police at Springfield, where it was reported he and a companion were attempting to steal gasoline, the companion being arrested by police there.

The youth, Robert Long, 17, 510 Tyler, Taft, Calif., said he and his companion Clare Bupp, 17, also of Taft, had gotten to a place in Texas. They entered a garage when it was open, he told Trooper Stohr, and after it was locked by the operator, they picked out the Oldsmobile, unlocked the door and drove away.

They reached Springfield and running low on gasoline decided to try and steal some from other automobiles. It was during this venture that Springfield police came upon them. Long succeeded in escaping in the car while Bupp was caught.

Long was taken to Warsaw, Mo., where he was locked in the Benton county jail and released to the sheriff from Greene county early Thursday.

Trooper Stohr received a call from Springfield about 4:30 o'clock Thursday morning, stating the boy was headed this way and a description of the car was given by the Bupp boy. He then started south on highway 65 and met the car near the junction. The boy admitted taking the automobile.

Kill More Than 200 Japanese
CHUNGKING, July 5.—(AP)—American fighters "concentrated on the Japanese withdrawal from French Indo-China through Hainan Strait" yesterday killing more than 200 in small craft skirting Tonkin gulf, a U. S. craft skirting from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said today.

Authorities said there was no indication of large scale withdrawals from Indo-China, pointing out the small size of the force attacked.

The Chinese high command announced a series of successes including capture of the important center of Fanchien, 210 miles southeast of Luichow, and an advance to the Lojuna area 20 miles northeast of Luichow.

The American fliers destroyed or damaged 33 locomotives, mostly around the yellow river, and knocked out numerous junks, sampans, barges and power boats on the Siang and West rivers.

Fanchien was retaken three days ago in a counterattack started July 2. The Japanese were believed to have fought to hold the road center to safeguard communication with Hainan island. The communists said the Japanese retreated westward.

The high command announced belatedly that regulars and local militia on June 23 recaptured Pingnan on the West river, 85 miles southeast of Luichow and less than 15 miles from the former American air base at Tanchuk. Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chenault's fliers abandoned Tanchuk last September 21.

Hirohito Shifts Generals

Powerful Air Blows Cut Into Enemy Shipping, Manufacture, Planes

By Leonard Millman
Associated Press War Editor

Emperor Hirohito's military leaders reshuffled eight generals today as Tokyo broadcasts reported 300 American raiders from Okinawa and Iwo Jima struck at Japan again today, continuing yesterday's powerful blows which cut deeper into Nippon's manufacturing, shipping, and air power.

Simultaneously the U. S. navy department acknowledged the loss of the submarine Trigger with her crew of 80 or more men. It was the 45th submarine lost.

Japan's army shake-up included two military defense districts bearing the weight of meeting threatened invasion, including the Tokyo metropolitan area. Generals changing jobs included the head of the military propaganda section.

The enemy report on today's air strikes said 100 Mustang fighter planes from Iwo Jima, guided by nine Superforts, hammered airdromes near Tokyo while 200 fighters and bombers raided Kyushu Island. Both would be repeated performances of two phases of yesterday's extensive aerial blows which set four Japanese cities afire, wrecked 22 ships, destroyed 22 Japanese planes and bomb-pocked dozens of air fields from Tokyo to Java.

Despite increasing American air blows concentrated on Nippon aircraft production, Tokyo radio boasted that "amazing numbers" of planes were being produced in bomb-proof underground factories, so cleverly hidden that scouting American planes couldn't find them.

Approximately 800 American planes were involved in yesterday's strikes at Japan, Iwo Jima sent 150 Mustang fighters over six Tokyo airfields, presumably the same ones hit again today, during which one squadron tried for more than an hour to get the enemy to come up and fight. From Okinawa 130 army and marine planes raked two airdromes on Kyushu Island, also attacked by other air groups.

Two B-29s failed to return from the day's heaviest strike, a 500 plane fire raid on four Japanese cities, which returning crewmen said set off "plenty of fireworks on the ground" and gave them their "most glorious fourth."
